TONGS FIGHT; 2 DEAD, 2 SHOT

$561,826 PUT IN WAR CHEST, DEMOCRATS SAY

McAdoo Missing on Donation List.

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—James H. Jones, Democratic director of finance, tonight made public a complete list of contributions over $100 to the Democratic campaign fund. It shows that a total of $561,826 has been subscribed so far. These figures and names will be the subject of testimony tomorrow at the session of the Borah campaign contributions committee in Washington. Clem L. Shaver of the Democratic national committee will be a witness, as will also James W. Goetz, treasurer of the committee.

The names of James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for President in 1920, and William G. McAdoo, who made an unsuccessful fight for the nomination last July, are absent from the list. No gift of more than $25,000 appears, except that of Mr. Jones himself, and Mrs. Jones added $5,000. Bernard M. Baruch, the banker, gave $25,000; Henry Morgenthau $21,000, and Thomas L. Chadbourne of Greenwich, Conn., $20,000.

Davis, $5,000; Bryan, $500. James W. Goetz, the Democratic national treasurer, gave $15,000, and Clem Shaver, Democratic national chairman, and Norman Davis contributed $10,000 each.

John W. Davis, the candidate, appears among those who gave $5,000. Others contributing a similar amount include Samuel Untermyer, who today is asked to assist Frank P. Walker, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, among those who gave $5,000.

Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, widow of Woodrow Wilson, gave $100, as also did Joseph Daniels, former secretary of the navy.

Chicagoans on List.—On the list of contributors appear the following names of Chicagoans: Mrs. Emma Blaine, $5,000; Cyrus H. McCormick, $2,000; John J. O'Brien, $1,000; Frank H. McCulloch, $1,000; John H. Brown, $1,000; Oscar G. Foreman, $500; John C. Williams, $500, and P. A. Weaver, $250.

RENEW INQUIRY TODAY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Democratic campaign managers will hold the center of the stage when the Borah senatorial committee investigating campaign funds resumes its inquiry in Washington tomorrow. Senator Borah (R., Idaho), chairman of the committee, who arrived today from Chicago, where hearings were commenced last week, indicated that the investigation might continue the greater part of the time during the two weeks remaining before election day.

Witnesses tomorrow will be Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and James W. Goetz, treasurer of the committee. They will be prepared to discuss the details of the $500,000 fund thus far raised by the Democrats and their plans for spending the total to $1,500,000.

V. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board, also may be a witness tomorrow. The committee may question Mr. O'Connor with reference to his charge that the La Follette forces have received the money in which the ship of labor leaders who visited President Coolidge on Labor day was named.

Finding of Skeleton

Reveals Possible Murder
Workmen digging in the rear of a building at 618 North Clark street yesterday unearthed a human skeleton about two feet below the surface, near the catch basin. It is believed by the police that the bones represent a murder, as the victim was put there after the catch basin had been constructed. The bones were removed to the county morgue.

J. RAGLAN PATCHMORE IN TOWN

PATCHMORE IN CHICAGO. Has Not Changed Much Nor Often.

Reporter Recognized Him Three Miles Away.

Interesting Political Views of the Noted Apostle of Inertia.

Mr. J. Raglan Patchmore has been missing of late, and one or two people have expressed alarm lest he continue to be missed. A local official in Peoria notified Chief of Police Collins that he had missed him three times last Saturday.

"Low visibility and Mr. Patchmore's protective coloring," reported the official in extenuation.

where there is a small town prejudice against the leisure class.

"How did you find the economic conditions out in the agricultural belt?" queried the reporter, putting a new ribbon in his typewriter.

"There is a shortage of ready money," responded Mr. Patchmore, with conviction, "or if there is any money it isn't ready. During the harvest season in Kansas I was in Tennessee, where there was some unemployment while

Last evening, however, when the wind shifted to the south, North Siders first became aware that Mr. Patchmore was either back on the South Side of the Stockyards had put on a double night shift.

With this hot clue, a peripatetic reporter, eager to verify the report that harm might have befallen the widely known Apostle of Inertia, went unerringly to him.

Mr. Patchmore has not changed much or anything since he last was here. He can easily be recognized by the old familiar front and side view photographs taken in 1913.

"Do the people seem contented?"

"No. Wherever I went there was acute evidence

"I wanted to reach town before the prince departed," he said affably, as he drew a cigar from his pocket and lighted it, "but I was detained thirty days in one place and later had to tour around several towns of discontent. I was told this was only a temporary condition, however."

"Were you able to get a line on the political situation? Is there much unrest?"

"Alas, yes," exclaimed the Rest Magistrate, "what this country needs is more rest. Whenever I've tried to introduce it, I've been frowned upon. Even the dogs frowned upon it—ones in particular. When we parted company I left behind about three per cent of Patchmore."

"Oh, accidents will happen," murmured the Scribe, sympathetically.

"Yes, but this wasn't an accident. It was intentional." Mr. Patchmore ruefully regarded the spot where once part of his trousers had been and sighed. "Let bygones be bygones."

Thus the noble spirit of Mr. Patchmore, always magnanimous and forgiving, dismissed the painful subject.

"How do you size up the political situation?"

"Well, there seems to be some sentiment in the South for Davis. I saw two men in Arkansas who announced they were going to vote for him when they heard he was the Democratic nominee. In Georgia, the Jeffersonian Davis Marching Through Georgia club say they

"I shall do my usual fall voting for Coolidge, Davis, and La Follette. This will keep me very busy, and after that I shall rest up for a few months. I'm having my town house put in order. Please tell my friends that I am in town."

"They know it already," said the reporter, "but I shall confirm it. The financial center of the world then shifted slightly and Mr. Patchmore hurried away to the nearest near-beer store. There are no more saloons.

Reaped Through Alley.
Two other Chinamen, evidently accomplices of Hong, escaped with him by running through an alley at the rear of the restaurant.

Twenty minutes later two Chinamen entered a laundry at 510 North Paulina street and opened fire on Moy Tong-Hong, the proprietor, and Moy Tong-Ton, his cousin and helper. The former was struck in the back and arm, while the latter was wounded in four places.

Both men were unconscious on the floor when the police arrived and the discarded guns of their assailants were found beside their bodies.

Three Chinamen, riding in an automobile, later attempted to assassinate Charlie Hung in his laundry at 1631 North Kedzie avenue and Joe Lee in his chop suey parlor at 4053 Milwaukee avenue, but their aim was poor. Joe, warned of the previous shootings, was on the lookout for the gunmen and had armed his cooks and waiters with cleavers, knives and guns.

Shoot for "Police"
They raised such a racket when the gunmen emerged from their machine by yelling: "Police! Police!" that the attackers fired a few scattered shots and fled before getting within good shooting range.

Two more gunmen attempted to kill Charlie Cheng while he was ironing in his laundry at 2357 Burley avenue, but their shots did no harm besides breaking the window. They escaped on a north bound street car.

Some of the Chinamen declared the shooting was an outgrowth of a contest for membership between the On Leongs and the Hip Sings. Others insisted the trouble was just the result of feuds between families.

The theory advanced by Frank May, former "mayor of Chinatown" and erstwhile head of the On Leongs here, was that all of the shootings were the work of gunmen engaged in the black-mailing operations of Chin Jack Lam, a former On Leong and renegade leader of a band of some 300 extortioners.

Police Suspect Blackmail.
Both of the men wounded in the Paulina street laundry are equals of Moy. The police placed more credence in his story than in those of the others questioned.

Several weeks ago King Joy Lo, owner of the big loop restaurant, received a threatening letter demanding $10,000, and other wealthy celebrities have been recipients of "yellow hand" missives.

CHINESE GUN TOTERS SPREAD WIDE TERROR

17 Police Squads Patrol City.

Chinese tong feuds flared into open warfare in Chicago last night. Five shootings in different sections of the city occurred within three hours. One Chinese was killed and two others wounded, one probably mortally. Three others escaped death solely through poor marksmanship. Another Chinaman was killed last night in Milwaukee, a part of the same feud.

Further gunplay was averted by drastic actions taken by Chief of Police Collins and Chief of Detectives Hughes, who jointly took command in the emergency.

Uniformed policemen were stationed in front of every Chinese laundry in the city while seventeen squads of detectives toured the streets with orders to pick up every Chinaman found on the streets or in street cars, elevated trains, and automobiles.

All Ball Stations Watched.
Plain clothes men watched all depots to prevent an exodus of gunmen and to be on the lookout for two Chinamen suspects said to be on their way here from Milwaukee.

Heavy guards were thrown about both Chicago Chinatowns, the stronghold of the On Leong tong on 31st street and the domain of the Hip Sing on South Clark street. Gathering places and gambling resorts of both organizations were raided.

At 11 o'clock squads from the detective bureau descended upon a Chinese lodging house at 418 South Clark street and arrested twenty-five persons, one a woman. All were taken to cells for questioning and all searched for guns.

The main slain was Willie Koo Kai, 23 years old, one of the owners of the Madison Square chop suey restaurant at 4753 West Madison street. He was shot down in the kitchen of the restaurant by a cook, Wong Joe Hong, who had been employed only two weeks ago.

Accident a Mystery.
The cause of the explosion, according to word from the Trenton, had not been determined.

"The forward twin mount was trained to the beam, with guns at an extreme elevation," said the message. "No shot had been fired. Powder and shell were being hoisted into the turret and all safety precautions had been observed."

Unusual and exacting care had been taken at every step, and at present it is believed the accident cannot be attributed to electrical trouble. Immediately after the explosion the access door in the rear of the turret was opened and four men fell overboard because of the overhang. Three were rescued, one apparently was badly burned and drowned, but the body was not recovered. The scout cruiser Raleigh was searching for the body to-night.

Vessel in Service Six Months.
The cruiser was said to have been but a few miles from Norfolk when the accident occurred. It is in command of Capt. E. C. Kalkfus.

HERE'S DEVER'S SUBWAY AND 'L' TRACTION PLAN

Three Projects Now Up to Council.

BY WILLIAM LAWSON.
Mayor Dever's scheme for the construction of a municipally owned and operated, elevated, subway system to compete with the present privately owned lines was given to the local transportation committee of the council yesterday.

The project, with the traction proposals already offered by Samuel Insull, chairman of the elevated lines directors, is being considered by the committee in daily sessions, beginning this afternoon.

Report by Keller.
The administration's program, embodied in a report of Wm. E. F. Keller Jr., the committee's engineering expert, includes plans for eighteen miles of rapid transit lines with forty-six miles of track in the initial construction period, all to be financed by use of the city's $44,800,000 traction fund.

Six miles of the tracks would be located in central district subways and forty miles on elevated structures serving sections of northwest and southwest sides now without rapid transit facilities. Extensions of the system in the future can be financed, the mayor believes, from its operating profits, by special assessment against benefited property, or by the issuance of the so-called Schwartz utility certificates.

Would Halt Insull.
Some of the routes selected for the municipal elevated lines are those over which Mr. Insull has already asked franchises to extend his system, and in the special message which he will read to the council tomorrow, the mayor will urge the rejection of the franchises as well as Mr. Insull's offer to dig downtown subways if the city is unwilling.

In his message the mayor will recount his failure to agree with the owners of the elevated and surface lines upon a price for their properties and, it is said, will suggest a resumption of the parley by the council before a decision is made upon one of the several pending traction plans.

No Duplicate Service.
The administration's program plans no duplication of existing service, and the proposed municipal system lends itself, the mayor will point out, to unification with existing facilities, "if the latter can be acquired by the city."

The message, it was learned last night, will also be accompanied by the application of the Chicago Motor Coach company for a franchise and its offer, it is said, to pay the city compensation for the use of the streets, probably 5 per cent of its net receipts. A suit to oust the buses from the streets because they have no operating grant from the council is pending in the Circuit court.

FIRST BUILDING PHASE
The first phase of construction recommended in the mayor's plan is as follows:

1. A two track subway on Clark street, from Chicago avenue to Polk street, extending west in Chicago avenue from Polk to Orleans street, and also west in Polk street from Clark street to Jefferson street, connecting with the subway.

2. An elevated railroad on Chicago avenue, from Milwaukee avenue, extending from Orleans street to Irving Park boulevard, with three tracks south of Belmont avenue, and

3. An elevated railroad on Polk street, from Belmont avenue, and Ashland avenue, extending from Jefferson street to 71st street, with three tracks between Jefferson street and 81st street.

Second Building Phase.
In a second period of construction it is recommended that the system be extended as follows:

1. On Belmont avenue, from Milwaukee avenue to Oak Park avenue.

2. On Kedzie avenue, from Milwaukee avenue to Belmont avenue.

3. On Milwaukee avenue, from Irving Park boulevard to Devon avenue.

4. On Archer avenue, from Ashland avenue to Oak Park avenue.

5. On Kedzie avenue, from Archer avenue to 71st street.

6. On Ashland avenue and along the

WIDENER TO GIVE HIS $50,000,000 ART WORKS TO PUBLIC

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Defending his refusal to sell to Prince Felix Yusouffoff the two Rembrandts which he purchased from the Russian for $100,000 sterling in 1921, under certain conditions, Joseph E. Widener, Philadelphia financier and art collector, testified today that he would not sell the paintings for any price because of his decision to leave to the American public his great collection, valued at $50,000,000, as a memorial to his father.

He characterized Yusouffoff as an "assassin," a "buffoon" and a "joke," and he added that the prince's reputation had not gained any since coming to the United States.

Will Heat Lenin's Tomb to Keep Body from Cracking
RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 20.—The Moscow Soviet has decided not to permit Nicolai Lenin's body to freeze again this winter, since undertakers report that disastrous results are probable and the corpse is likely to crack. Therefore, Lenin's tomb in Red Square will be closed this coming fortnight to permit engineers to install heating apparatus. The Moscow Pravda reports that more than 500,000 people visited the tomb during the last summer, and Mr. Lenin's corpse is now the eighth wonder of the world to the bolsheviks.

C. R. I. & P. right of way from 71st street to 115th street.

If traffic requirements warrant it, Maj. Kelker's report points out, plans can be developed for extensions to serve South Chicago and Roseland and provide another rapid transit line tapping the west side, probably along Madison street, between the Metropolitan and Lake street branches of the existing elevated lines.

Subway Through Loop.

The program, according to its sponsors, contains recommendations for an independent rapid transit subway which will:

1. Provide a subway for rapid transit through the loop;
2. Supplement existing rapid transit facilities, avoid duplication of such facilities as far as possible, and will provide rapid transit to a much greater area of the city than is now served;
3. Supply rapid transit facilities to districts having the greatest immediate need;
4. Have initial subway and elevated lines so located that they will readily fit into the comprehensive rapid transit system which will ultimately be required to serve the entire city;
5. Be possible of independent operation, or coordination with existing rapid transit lines, or the surface lines, or both; and
6. Give the largest amount of subway mileage which can be financed with the traction fund as a nucleus and be feasible for operation if negotiations with local transportation companies fail.

The program, while adopted by the administration as its solution of the traction problem after Mayor Dever's failure to negotiate purchase terms with the elevated and surface lines, was prepared by Maj. Kelker in answer to a council query as to "how, when, and where subways could best be built in Chicago."

A study of all possible means of providing funds led to the conclusion, in which the administration agrees, "that the $44,000,000 traction fund furnished the sole means of financing the immediate construction of subways," Maj. Kelker declared.

COST OF PROPOSALS

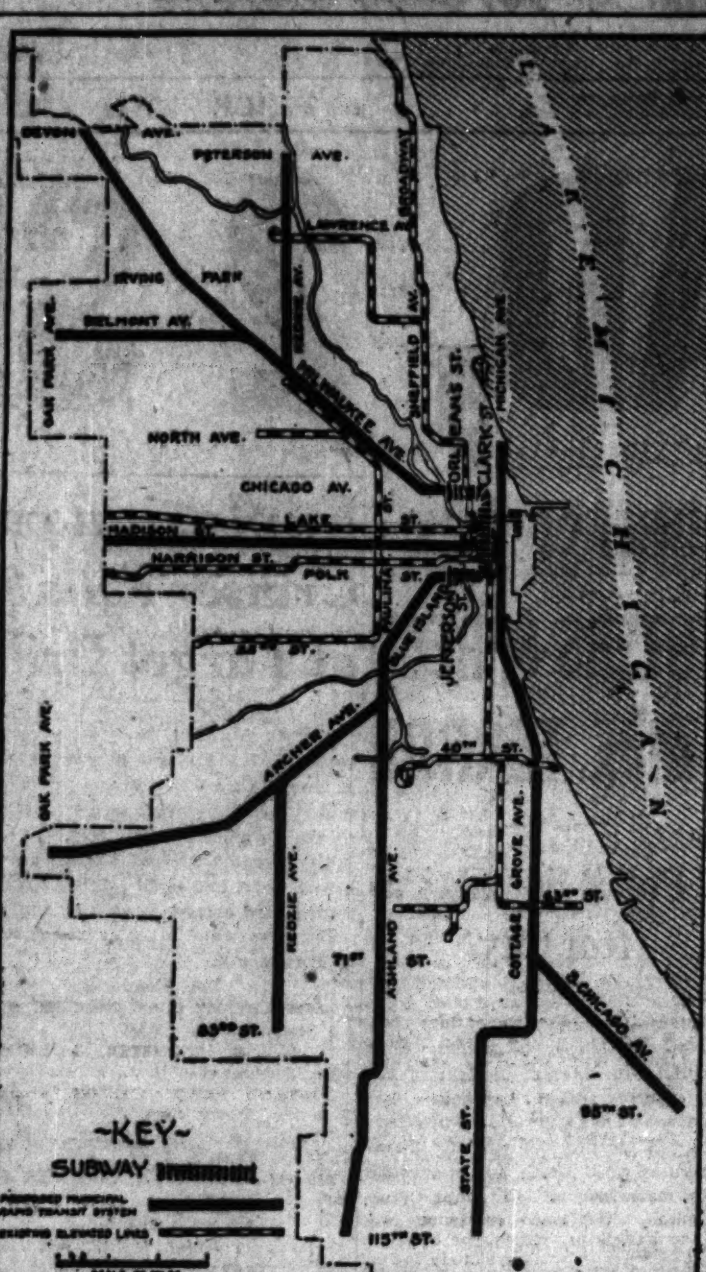

Based on his estimates on present construction costs, Maj. Kelker found that a little over eight miles of rapid transit subway with sixteen miles of track from Belmont avenue through the loop to 115th street, or three tubes through the loop district, probably two and one-half miles in length to the north, south, and west sides could be built with the traction fund.

Or if it were determined to operate surface cars through the loop in subways, a similar mileage could be financed by the fund.

"Standing alone," continues the report, "neither an eight mile rapid transit subway nor eight mile street railway subway would add materially to the city's transportation facilities, and neither of such subways standing alone could be operated on a self-sustaining basis. We found, however, that it would be feasible and possible to construct a system consisting of subways and elevated railroads which could be operated independently of any negotiations with the existing transportation companies."

The initial line, it is estimated, would involve the expenditure of approximately $29,851,000. Power stations, shops, yards, and terminals and 240 modern rapid transit cars would cost an additional $8,998,000. Such a system in 1931 would carry a total of 50,650,000 revenue passengers and by 1940 it would be handling 67,870,000 passengers, the engineers have

DEVER'S TRACTION PLAN

This map not only shows the so-called first phase of the mayor's traction plan completed, but the second phase also, which a third feature added, in case the city is unable ultimately to buy the privately owned lines.

This third feature is the construction of subways and elevated structures in Michigan avenue, Indiana, and Cottage Grove to 71st street, where the line would divide into two branches.

way toward meeting the city's rapid transit deficiency. A rapid transit line of this length operated through the most populous sections of the city which are now without rapid transit facilities would be self-sustaining on a reasonable rate of fare.

The initial line, it is estimated, would involve the expenditure of approximately $29,851,000. Power stations, shops, yards, and terminals and 240 modern rapid transit cars would cost an additional $8,998,000. Such a system in 1931 would carry a total of 50,650,000 revenue passengers and by 1940 it would be handling 67,870,000 passengers, the engineers have such as interest on bonds, notes, or other obligations.

As a result, its earnings over actual operating expenses would be available to finance further development of the system. Figuring on the basis of a 7 cent fare, this surplus would be ample to finance extension of the system, the administration is confident.

WHERE SERVICE IS NEEDED

"Taking the city as a whole," Maj. Kelker found, "and considering density of population, existing transportation facilities, and the possibility of future growth, it is apparent that the two districts having the greatest needs, but the least facilities, and capable, however, of most rapid expansion are the northwest and southwest sections of the city."

"The northwest section is tributary to Milwaukee and Grand avenues and the southwest section to Halsted street and Ashland and Archer avenues. Each of these sections should be provided with rapid transit facilities for the reason that it would involve less expense [being the shortest route] and the difference saved could be used to provide more rapid transit mileage in outlying sections. A subway on any of these streets, however, would afford convenient access to practically any part of the business center of the city."

"If a subway is built in Dearborn street, according to the report, $443,000 should be added to the $18,931,000 estimated cost of construction, and if it is located in State street, $1,340,000 should be added, as the route from Irving Park to 71st street would be longer than if Clark street were used.

Plan Finest Equipment.

The cost estimates include provision for the most modern type of electrical apparatus and railroad facilities. Cars 67 feet long, 10 feet wide and seating ninety passengers, larger than the equipment now in use on the Chicago elevated or in the New York subway system, are contemplated.

"One of the chief advantages that the proposed system will have over the existing transportation lines is the reduction in the amount of time necessary to travel from one point to another in the districts served by the proposed system and the present lines. Generally, it may be said that from the central part of the city to North avenue on the northwest and 48th street on the southwest, there would be a saving on the proposed system of from ten to fifteen minutes, as compared with the time required on the existing surface lines; that is the time now required would be cut in half."

BIG TIME SAVING

The proposed municipal rapid-transit system would save its passengers twenty minutes in comparison with the running time scheduled by the existing surface lines between the loop and Irving Park boulevard at Milwaukee avenue, the engineers predict. And where it is now a fifty minute ride from Ashland and 71st street on the surface lines, the municipal system would make the trip in twenty-five minutes, a saving of twenty-four minutes, they say.

"Once the city inaugurates the construction of rapid transit railroads, the work should be carried on until a transportation system is constructed that will place rapid transit facilities at the disposal of all its citizens," the report recommends. "The subsequent expansion of the proposed system after the completion of the routes recommended for immediate construction has been given full consideration."

"If Chicago were to be provided with ideal rapid transit service, lines traversing the city lengthwise at intervals of one mile, together with diagonal lines radiating from the center of the city would be required, so that rapid transit service would be directly available to all with a maximum walk of one-half mile."

Chicago's Great Area.

Be on your guard for signs of Pyorrhea

Just as the stability of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so healthy teeth depend upon healthy gums.

Bleeding gums are the first sign of Pyorrhea's approach. Then they begin to recede and the healthy pink color gives place to a pale, whitish tint. Soon the teeth are loosened, pus pockets form and drain their poisons through the system, often causing indigestion, rheumatism, neuritis and many of the other diseases of mid-life.

Let Forhan's help you

Forhan's For the Gums is a most effective agent in the fight against this insidious disease. It contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession) to neutralize oral poison, and keep the gums in a firm, strong, healthy condition. Also, it cleans and whitens the teeth and keeps the mouth sweet, clean and wholesome. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all drug stores, 35c and 60c in tubes.

CABINET CRISIS HURLS GERMANY INTO ELECTION

Reichstag Dissolved by Decree of Ebert.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—President Ebert dissolved the Reichstag shortly before 9 o'clock tonight.

The country now faces a general election, as in England, because of Chancellor Marx's failure to resign his cabinet on a basis which would give him a working majority in the Reichstag.

After undergoing the longest crisis in the history of the German republic, the decision was taken after Herr Marx met with the cabinet and leaders of the seven largest political parties. Herr Marx went to President Ebert's house to request the decree, which the president issued immediately.

Crisis Due to Dawes Plan.

The crisis was the direct result of the Dawes plan. In order to pass the Dawes plan the cabinet made promises to the Nationalists, who, after swearing they would never accept it, finally voted for it. The Nationalists' reward was to be a tax on imported grain, a decision against joining the league of nations unless Germany's claim to it did not start the war was accepted, and three seats in the cabinet.

The government encountered difficulties in fulfilling its promises. When Germany's war guilt whitewashing note was announced an international scandal followed and threatened to upset the Geneva meeting of the league of nations. When the excitement died down Chancellor Marx, who is leader of the Catholic party, tried to form a "people's cabinet," including the Social Democrats as well as the Nationalists, to whom he offered prominent portfolios. But the various parties refused to cooperate. After fruitless weeks of striving to help the nation instead of playing party politics, Chancellor Marx gave up.

President Ebert's Decree.

The decree dissolving the Reichstag reads: "Parliamentary difficulties of the present government make the formation of a new government on a basis of the internal and foreign policies heretofore followed impossible. In accordance with paragraph twenty-five of the constitution I hereby declare a dissolution of the Reichstag."

The present cabinet was asked to remain in office until a new one is formed. It is generally expected that elections will be held on Dec. 7, and that unless a great change in party alignment takes place Chancellor Marx will be asked to form a new government.

Urge Presidential Election.

However, there is a big possibility that the Social Democrats will prove their contention that the Communist party has lost ground heavily and that they will have enough votes to make them the first party, with enough extra members in the Reichstag to assume the chancellorship again.

The Nationalists are demanding that the President's diet election and the election of a new president be coupled with the rehashing election. In such a case it is likely that Chancellor Marx will be the next president, because President Ebert is anxious to quit office, and Chancellor Marx is considered Germany's ablest statesman.

It is generally expected that Gen. von Ludendorff's so-called Fascist, or Voelkische, party, which made a sensational campaign, electing forty members the first time the party name appeared on the ballots, will suffer considerable losses.

Adds to French Nervousness.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The dissolution of the Reichstag adds to the nervousness under which French political circles are laboring on the eve of the reopening of the French parliament.

The general tension created by the English and American elections is now made much more pronounced by the dissolution of the German government to call elections.

If the Nationalists win in Germany, Premier Herriot stands no chance whatever to continue his policy of conciliation, according to "reliable sources." If the Republican groups of Germany win, M. Herriot's hand will be strengthened greatly, no matter what happens to Prime Minister MacDonald.

JUDGE ASSIGNS

NAGGING DAYS TO

MAN AND HIS WIFE

A nagging schedule was arranged yesterday by Judge Henry Lewis in the hope that the future may bring domestic felicity to George and Rose Kopoun, 216 South Kildare avenue.

On Tuesday George Kopoun can swear his wife. This privilege is also allowed him on Thursday and Saturday.

On Monday, again on Wednesday and on Friday, Mrs. Kopoun can say anything she likes to her husband.

On George's day Rose must grin and bear it; when Rose's day arrives George must let it go in one ear and out the other.

And on Sunday both must be peaceful and happy.

This was ordered when the pair had appeared before Judge Lewis in a divorce suit. Mrs. Kopoun brought two children with her and the judge said he wanted the parents to become reconciled. They agreed to try the judge's plan.

LABOR WINS TRIAL BY JURY IN U. S. CONTEMPT CASES

Supreme Court Hands Down Ruling.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Federal courts cannot refuse jury trials in contempt cases arising out of labor disputes, the Supreme court held today in two cases, one coming from western Wisconsin and the other from Kentucky.

The opinion, delivered by Mr. Justice Sutherland, held that the section of the Clayton act requiring a jury trial in certain specified kinds of contempt is constitutional; that railroad workers on strike are "employees" within the meaning of that law; that the contempt charged constituted a criminal offense, and that a trial by jury was mandatory when demanded.

During the shopmen's strike in 1922 Sam Michaelson and other striking employees of the Chicago, St. Paul and Omaha Railway company were charged with conspiring to interfere with interstate commerce by picketing and the use of force and violence.

After a hearing the federal district court for western Wisconsin issued an injunction, restraining Michaelson and his associates from certain acts.

Contempt proceedings were instituted against them, charging violation of certain features of the injunction. Denied a trial by jury, they were held by the court, after a hearing, to be in contempt, and sentenced. The Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the decision.

Declaring that the "power to punish for contempt is inherent in all courts" and "essential to the administration of justice," the Supreme court at the same time asserted that it could not be doubted that such power could be regulated, within certain limits.

Congress could not abridge, it explained, the power of the courts to deal with contempt committed in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to obstruct the administration of justice, nor to enforce its decrees. Congress had not attempted to do any of these things in the Clayton act, the court added.

BAYONETS RULE HERRIN AGAIN AS YOUNG IS SEIZED

Marion, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—S. Glenn Young, former Klan raid leader, together with John Grompton and Leonard Barras of Herrin, Kansas, were arrested tonight by Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas. Thomas was aided by two squads of militiamen, whom he requested to assist him.

The prisoners were brought to Marion by automobile, and while they were furnishing $5,000 bond, the soldiers kept back a large crowd with fixed bayonets.

The three are charged with assault to commit murder upon John Garavaglia, former Herrin health officer.

Troops Patrol Streets.

Herrin, Ill., Oct. 20.—State troops with fixed bayonets again patrolled the streets of Herrin tonight as a result of an encounter between Leonard Barras, alleged klanman, and John W. Garavaglia following a trial in City court here in which Garavaglia represented two girls.

The girls had been arrested because of remarks they are reported to have made against Mrs. Barras.

The two men came to blows on the courthouse steps. Crowds gathered and as a precautionary measure the soldiers, on duty here since Aug. 20, were ordered out to prevent the gathering of citizens.

Wife of Bert Lytell, Film

Actor, Is Granted Divorce

Independence, Mo., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Evelyn Vaughn Lytell was granted a divorce here today from Bert Lytell, picture actor. Mrs. Lytell charged indignities. Lytell, who was represented by his attorney, is reported to be in the South Sea Islands engaged in making a picture.

CAL IS CUTTING INTO BOB'S LEAD IN GOPHER STATE

Minnesota Voters Fear a Presidential Deadlock.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—In Minnesota the "economic status" has thrown in the clutch and Coolidge appears to be creeping up on La Follette. The argument that is expected to produce most telling effect in the unrest some in the next two weeks is that the whole country may be plunged into a period of indecision and depression if the electoral college is deadlocked and the election is thrown into congress.

The idea is seeping through that just when things are beginning to hum again in the agricultural middle west, a deadlock might mean a troop from Nov. 4 to March 4, four months of uncertainty and business stagnation, much unemployment, and a hard winter for the ordinary citizen, farmer, and business man, industrial worker, and white collar worker alike.

G. O. P. Leaders Cheerful.

In the four days since Senator La Follette spoke here Republican leaders in the Twin Cities have been growing more cheerful over the outlook. Soundings made here and there, they say, convince them that the reaction to Bob's meeting has not increased the La Follette strength. As they view it, Bob is slipping and Cal is gaining.

The regulars say they are not "kidding" themselves, that it is a hard uphill fight in Minnesota, but that latest conservatism is now rising from its pillow. Confirmed pessimists among the Republican chiefs, the hard boiled old timers, who always study the cards close to their eyes, today are saying they now expect Coolidge to carry the state.

Registration is higher than before and 100,000 more votes are expected to be polled than before. In Minneapolis the extra vote will add Coolidge in St. Paul it probably will not. Outside the Twin Cities the Republicans expect to profit from the bigger vote.

State Fight Complicates Vote.

The situation here is complicated by the state fight. Representative Thomas D. Schall, Republican, is given a lead at present over Magnus Johnson for United States senator. On the other hand, Floyd Olson, Farmer-Labor candidate for governor, appears to be running the race off Theodore Christensen, the Republican nominee. So the national ticket is not deriving much from the struggles over state offices.

Republican leaders are building much upon the address Secretary Hughes is to deliver in the Twin Cities this week. His exposition of the issues is expected to play an important part with the undecided vote.

The money tide is spreading over the agricultural regions, taxes and debts are being paid up, country merchants are starting to order, and business and industry in the cities are gaining momentum. The chance that a deadlock would slam on the brakes for the new prosperity is the big argument.

Visible evidence, too, is hitting the voter in the eye that the play of both the Democrats and the La Follette camp is to throw the election into congress.

John W. Davis has dropped out of sight here. The wisacres say the Democratic ticket will not poll more than 10 per cent of the total vote.

RE-ELECT COOLIDGE, HE IS ADDING PEACE OF WORLD, MOTT SAYS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Endorsement of both domestic and foreign policies of President Coolidge was made by Dr. John E. Mott, international general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, following a conference with the President.

Dr. Mott declared that the policy pursued by the President had by the State department in the realm of international affairs has had an important effect in stabilizing and reconstruction throughout the world. He advised an "strong, virile and forward looking men" to use their power in behalf of the re-election of President Coolidge.

"I believe he should be continued in the leadership of the nation," Dr. Mott said, "not only because of what he is and the ideals for which he stands and the principles which unmistakably govern him, but also because of the character, experience and equipment of the man today most closely associated with him and the policies to which he is committed."

SPEEDERS SEE CHILD CRIPPLES; SAY NEVER AGAIN

Judge Finnegan Conducts Lesson in Caution.

Crippled children and automobile speeders were brought face to face yesterday by order of Judge Philip J. Finnegan.

It was an object lesson and the nineteen men sent in patrol wagons to the Home for Destitute Crippled Children returned, adduced and shocked, and they promised never again to violate the speed laws.

The lesson was too late, however, to protect Anna Garfinkel, 10, of 1522 West 13th street, who died yesterday of injuries suffered Oct. 3; too late to save Oscar Peterson, 8, of 3338 North Leavitt street, struck last Saturday, who also died yesterday. The death clock for Cook county read 546 since Jan. 1.

"I want you to go over there and see the little sufferers," the judge said to those who admitted driving at an unreasonable speed. "Fines and jail sentences have failed to touch the hearts of the motorists. I hope this will and that you will henceforth have consideration for others."

Two Parties Are Sent.

Seven were sent during the morning, twelve in the afternoon. They were taken first to the James Spaulding School for Crippled Children at Park avenue and Paulina street, where there are 400 pupils, then sent to the hospital, where they are ninety-two patients.

Crutches, wheel chairs, leg braces, arm frames, body appliances for twisted spines or hips were plentiful. The wistful, patient little faces were in contrast with those of the visitors.

Two boards of education buses were about to take away the unfortunate children when the afternoon batch of speeders arrived in custody of Police men Louis Wood and Herbert McManis and Sheriff Joseph Clancy.

"More speeders!" the crippled and deformed shouted. It was a novelty for them, but something more than that for the adults, who were visibly affected.

The Object Lesson March.

In the lead came a youngster bravely propelling himself forward with crutches, a small girl, dragging a twisted leg encased in steel, and a boy with a shattered arm, then several in wheel chairs, all eager to be in the picture.

Then the party of speeders went to the hospital.

Three boys of about 8 years were the first to be seen. One had his arm in a cast, upraised at the elbow, and he had to hold it thus for many weeks. Another's arm was projecting straight out; he couldn't move it. The third's arm was bent at the elbow, the upper arm being extended horizontally. The children showed their interest, but the speeders passed on hurriedly. Any of those boys, or all of them, might have been injured by an automobile. None dared to ask them.

Crippled Children Smile.

Upstairs and through the wards where faces peered over bed covers. Many were strapped to their beds. None was complaining or crying; they seemed resigned.

Some of the speeders stopped to pat a head here, to speak a word of encouragement there. Smiles greeted them everywhere.

The lesson was learned!

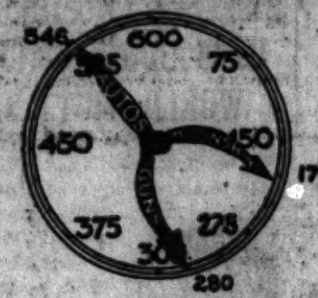

"I'd give my right arm to keep a child out of the hospital Ralph Glasbrook, 1334 North Park avenue, told Judge Finnegan when he returned. He admitted twenty-eight miles per hour and was then fined $4, but this was reduced to $4 when the court was told Glasbrook had been more than ordinarily kind to the crippled children.

"I hope your visit has impressed you so that you will think about the other fellow and that you will spread the news to your fellow automobile drivers," Judge Finnegan said.

Wallace Andrews, 1009 Milford street, admitted twenty-eight miles an hour.

"I was deeply impressed at the ho-pit, your honor," he said. "If I'm ever inclined to speed again I'll think of what I saw today."

"Most people don't think of the other's baby," the judge replied. Andrews was fined $5.

"It was a very pitiful sight," Homer Gaymer, 1448 North Park avenue, charged with twenty-eight miles an hour, said to the judge.

Big Lesson and Light Fine.

"Did you see all the little shavers strapped to their beds, with weights on their arms or legs?" the judge asked. "We want to avoid more cases like these. Do you promise to keep down to twenty miles per hour in the future? Then I'll make your fine $5."

"After this I'll be more careful; I've learned a lesson," Reginald Hardy, 1438 Wabash street, charged with twenty-nine miles, said.

"It's better to be careful and cautious than sorrowful," the court responded, and fined him $5.

It was an awful sight. Terrible! Anthony Saccone, 121 Germania place, charged with twenty-eight miles, said: "You won't run down a child, will you?" Judge Finnegan asked. "You'll give them a chance to cross the street, play ball or jump rope? Then pay $5."

Others drew fines of $5 to $10.

Awful Coroner's Inquiries.

Roy Wilberg, 1721 North Troy street, drove the auto that hit Anna Garfinkel when she attempted to cross at 12th street and Ashland avenue Oct. 3. After she died yesterday he was held to await action by a coroner's jury. Another held to await a coroner's jury verdict was Ludwig Felder, 601 Belden avenue, who drove the auto that hit Oscar Peterson while at Cuyaborn avenue and Lincoln street Saturday night.

Judge Frank T. Sullivan fined many speeders yesterday and sentenced two to the house of correction for driving while intoxicated. Those sent to the jail were Joseph Lynn, 4914 West 28th place, Cicero, and Stanley Wankowski, 3821 East avenue, Berwyn. They were given ten days and fined $50 and costs each.

"No one who appears before me," Judge Sullivan said, "on a charge of driving while intoxicated will escape a jail sentence, be it man or woman."

Judge Joseph La Hay did yesterday as he had done in the past—discharged many persons charged with driving faster than twenty miles per hour, the speed which Chief of Police Collins says is the legal limit in the city.

QUIZ GANGSTER ON MURDER OF MYSTERY MAN

South Park Ex-Cop Denies Share in Killing.

Charles Fitzpatrick, a former south park policeman, out on bonds with Walter O'Donnell, well known beer runner, for the murder of Alfred C. Deckman, was questioned at the detective bureau last night as to his knowledge of the murder of Philip Corrigan, who was found dead two weeks ago in an alley off of 54th street.

Fitzpatrick admitted knowing Corrigan, but insisted he knew nothing of the murder. Corrigan, the police said, was one of the men who put sixteen sticks of dynamite in the entrance of Eddie Tancil's saloon. He also was known as one of O'Donnell's trusties in the beer game.

Fitzpatrick and five companions were arrested by Lieut. Thomas Mangano and his squad. Several shots were fired at them before they surrendered. J. W. Weir, 5337 South Ashland avenue, signed a complaint against the men. They had been riding in his car when he said his car had been stolen from in front of his home Sunday morning.

When Alfred C. Deckman was shot on the morning of July 4 the police described it as an example of "savagery." Fitzpatrick and O'Donnell and four others were caught almost "red handed." In Fitzpatrick's hand the police say they found a revolver. Three shots had been fired and the barrel still was smoking.

Witness Tells of Threats.

A coroner's jury exonerated the accused six, but Capt. William Schoemaker brought them to court. Earl Cooper, a companion of Deckman's at the time of the shooting, testified that he had been threatened by the O'Donnell gang. After several continuances they were charged with murder.

Hugh Shanley, one of the men, was sent back to Joliet for violation of parole.

Fitzpatrick's five more recent companions, who are charged with larceny of an automobile, are: Edward Houlihan, 850 West 53d street; Michael Driscoll, 7814 Champlain avenue; Joseph McCall, 8927 Langley avenue; Thomas Sullivan, 5119 South May street, and Thomas Berkley, 7070 Wabash avenue.

BY FRANK BUTT

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 20.—Norman E. Jones, Democratic date for governor, carried into another Republican here tonight with a direct Republican support in his "redeem Illinois from the South."

"To you Republicans the traditions and ideals of I say, join with me in restoration to the glory that was here in the days of Lincoln."

Judge Jones spoke to a large audience at the Rock Island college auditorium last night. He addressed at least one-half the audience composed of Republicans. He sat on the stage. Half of the Republicans of prominence in Jones had the crowd with the start as he raked Governor's administration. JONES RAKES LEN TO REPUBLICANS OF ROCK ISLAND

Judge Seems to Have the Crowd with Him.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.] Norman L. Jones, Democratic candidate for governor, carried his campaign into another Republican stronghold here tonight with a direct appeal for Republican support in his crusade to "redeem Illinois from the blight of Small."

"To you Republicans who glory in the traditions and ideals of your party I say, join with me in restoring Illinois to the glory that was hers from Lincoln to Lowden."

Judge Jones spoke to a big crowd in the Augustana college auditorium. At least one-half the audience was composed of Republicans. Forty persons sat on the stage. Half of them were Republicans of prominence.

Jones had the crowd with him from the start as he raked Gov. Small and his administration. The meeting was all the more encouraging to the Democratic candidate because a big Republican meeting, with Secretary of Labor James J. Davis as the principal speaker, was a rival political attraction.

Delegation Comes from Mercer.

A delegation of 200 from Mercer county, including many Republicans, brought with them banners reading, "Mercer County Is for Jones, Hard Roads, Honest Government, and Tax Reduction." Mercer county is the home of Oscar E. Carlstrom, state tax commissioner and Republican candidate for attorney general.

Judge Jones exposed Gov. Small to ridicule over the governor's attempt to make hard roads the one and only issue in the state campaign.

"We have forty-eight hard roads governors in the United States," he said, "but none of the others are trying to hide the misdeeds and misrule of their administrations and official acts behind accomplishments of hard road construction. No other governor has been forced to that extremity."

Belga "Stench of America."

Happenings of the last four years in Illinois were characterized by Judge Jones as the "stench of America."

"Gov. Small makes no promises or pledges to stop these abuses or to eliminate the waste or the waste. He is endeavoring to make hard roads the one and only issue. Eliminate that and he has nothing to say for himself."

In declaring himself for the $100,000,000 road bond issue Jones said the only argument against it and the only obstacle to it was the fear of the people that the road funds it would provide would be lost "like other funds have been."

"Small talks about one other thing,"

THE FACE AT THE WINDOW

(Copyright, 1924, by The Chicago Tribune.)

Judge Jones said, "That is persecution. With his hard roads talk he adds vituperation of leading Republican newspapers of the state. If he has lost the support of the leading Republican newspapers, he had better look to his record for the reason."

"It would be of profit to this and future generations," Judge Jones continued, "to hold up, side by side, the record of Frank O. Lowden and the record of Len Small and let the people draw the deadly parallel. I would ask no more."

Small Facing Party Revolt.

Gov. Small is facing an open party revolt such as no Illinois party has seen for generations. Mr. Jones is being told on his final swing downstate. The information comes from Republican sources.

The outcome of the gubernatorial election may be determined by this Republican defection to Jones. Gov. Small and his managers are banking on La Follette votes and a Coolidge landslide in Illinois to offset it. Because the national fight is a three-cornered proposition and the gubernatorial contest is limited to Small and Jones, some of Small's friends are saying the governor will run ahead of Coolidge, despite the big Republican vote Jones will receive.

Small may win by a comfortable margin as a result of all the third party cross currents and the efforts of the Republican state committee to hold G. O. P. voters in line. But the Republican uprising is significant, observers declare. It is not comparable to the Bull Moose split in 1912. This revolt is directed solely against Small.

BEATS, BORN OLD MAN.

August Ruthman, 63, of 1413 Florence avenue, Evanston, was beaten, perhaps fatally last night by a young colored man, who attacked him in a barn at 1520 Lyons street, Evanston. After knocking the watchman unconscious the robber took $15 and escaped.

BLOW AT WIDOW SEEN IN BOOST OF ESTATE TAX

Weber Replies to Busch Demand for Increase.

City officials, in demanding that estates be taxed on their full values, want to extort an unjust, exorbitant tax from widows and orphans. It was charged yesterday by William H. Weber, secretary of the board of assessors and a candidate for election to the board of review.

Already estates are heavily taxed by state and government under the inheritance tax laws, Mr. Weber said, and added burdens would more seriously deplete their value.

Replies to Busch.

He spoke in answer to the statement issued by Mayor Dever through Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch that estates showing valuations of $24,754,332 in Probate court records have been assessed at only $4,555,306.

"Of course," Mr. Weber said, "there are some instances in which the assessors may have been misled, and undervaluations made. But no effort is made to collect a tax on the full cash value. It would be confiscatory if we did."

The present tax rate is almost $8 per $100 assessed valuation, which is one-half the actual value. Thus the tax is 4 per cent.

Estates Like Savings.

"Suppose we taxed savings accounts at 4 per cent," Mr. Weber asked. "No body would want to 'save' when the banks paid only 3 per cent. Estates are in much the same class. And many estates are composed chiefly of stocks in Illinois corporations, exempt under the statute."

"The tax hungry money spenders seek every avenue to increase their supply. Last year they promised us they would reduce the tax rate if we increased the valuations. We added close to $200,000,000. The city grabbed that up, but the rate was raised. The mayor even was required to veto some of the council's expenditures. Now they are asking widows' estates to pay more taxes. The city will never reduce taxes. That is an observation of twenty years of my experience on the board."

SAN FRANCISCO CHEERS GLIMPSE OF SHENANDOAH

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—The navy dirigible Shenandoah looped over San Francisco on her way from the north today, a mosquito fleet of airplanes from Crissy field and a fleet of inquirers, one gulls following to her wake. She was reported over Santa Cruz at 7:30 last night.

Off the Golden Gate it bent inland and maneuvered for altitude. Over the city proper it flew at a height of 1,000 feet or more, while cheering thousands crowded streets and buildings tops.

CROWE FAR IN LEAD BY NORTH SIDE TEST VOTE

Gains Both from Cal and Bob.

PRE-ELECTION POLL

Candidate	West	North	Total
Crowe	1,015	782	1,797
La Follette	281	241	522
Thompson	161	68	229
Other	559	3,006	3,565

State's Attorney Crowe might reasonably be expected to lead the other candidates for county prosecutor on the north side, but it was not thought that he would get three times as many votes as his chief competitor, Michael L. Igoe, Democratic nominee. But that was Crowe's showing in the straw vote.

Then add the west side sentiment expressed in straw, where Crowe obtained more than twice as many as Igoe and some impression is gained of the speed at which the prosecutor of Loeb and Leopold is now traveling in public esteem. It can be well illustrated by a comparison of the percentages of straws which each candidate obtained on the combined west and north divisions of the city, as follows:

Candidate	West	North	Total
Crowe	55.31	22.31	40.81
La Follette	16.18	10.18	13.18
Thompson	9.18	3.18	12.18
Other	19.31	64.31	16.81

Explained in Figures.

These percentages for President are based upon 3,157 straws, while for state's attorney the total votes numbered 7,345. The difference accounts for the number of persons who voted for President and then failed to vote for state's attorney. The reason why Crowe is running so far ahead of Coolidge, Igoe ahead of Davis, and Thompson so far behind La Follette is presented in the table below. Each table shows the number of Coolidge, Davis, La Follette, and Foster votes each candidate for state's attorney received for both the west side and north side. The two tables follow:

Candidate	West	North	Total
Crowe	1,015	782	1,797
La Follette	281	241	522
Thompson	161	68	229
Other	559	3,006	3,565

These two tables show that sentiment.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Devere club has endorsed the entire Republican ticket with three exceptions. It endorsed Norman L. Jones for governor, Thomas P. Donovan for attorney general, and Ald. J. M. Arvey for the De Young vacancy in the Superior court.

The John Hancock League of Illinois has endorsed the Republican ticket with an appeal for concentration against the "forces of unrest that are making most strenuous efforts to tear down and destroy our constitutional guarantees."

Michael L. Igoe, Democratic nominee for state's attorney, will be the guest of honor at a banquet at the Rainbow gardens tonight.

James F. Farley, Democratic nominee for chief justice of the Municipal court, will be honored with a banquet by west side friends this evening.

The Illinois Women's Democratic club will give a luncheon at the Auditorium hotel tomorrow for Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the national committee. Mrs. Blair, Thomas P. Donovan, nominee for attorney general, and Miss Harriet Vittum, will speak.

State's Attorney Crowe has made public extracts of letters of approval from Dr. Abraham Hirschberg, Father Michael O'Sullivan, the Rev. Otto C. A. Boecker, Father William J. McNamee and Bishop A. J. Carey.

Following a luncheon at the Congress hotel this noon, the Women's Roosevelt Republican club will take up the question of its endorsements.

Michael L. Igoe and Frank D. Comerford will speak this noon at the Garfield theater.

DAVIS COHORTS START PEPPING UP FOR FINISH

BY PARKE BROWN.

George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, told 300 party workers yesterday that President Coolidge is keeping off the stump "because he is afraid to face the people."

He said it at the first of a series of "pep" meetings intended to start the "whirlwind windup" of the campaign that has been a part of the Brennan plan for months. The first gathering, consisting of workers in the First and Second congressional districts, was held at Municipal hall. Two more congressional districts will be called in each day until the ten in Cook county have been covered.

Brennan, County Chairman Martin J. O'Brien, County Clerk Robert M. Swanson, County Treasurer P. J. Carr, and A. J. Carmak, president of the county board, were the first day's "pep" injectors, Brennan dealing largely with the national situation.

Cal Aftand, He Says.

"He doesn't get out into the campaign because he is afraid to," he said, referring to President Coolidge. "If the people could see and compare Coolidge and Davis it would be a landslide for Davis."

He spoke of the La Follette third party as "the second Republican party," but urged the workers not to let Democratic votes stray away into the La Follette fold. "Every one that does," he said, "is a vote for Coolidge."

The Republican national headquarters, in the name of Chairman William M. Butler, issued a statement supporting his previous charges that the Democrats are working hand in hand with the third party in an effort to throw the election into Congress.

Claim Indefinite, He Says.

"The Democratic nominee at Nashville," read the statement, "made the bold claim that the third party candidate will carry six or eight states. He does not name them. But he displays a keen interest in such a contingency."

"Take Minnesota, for example. There Mr. John Lind, for many years a leader in the Democratic party in the northwest, elected as congressman and then as governor on the Democratic ticket, and later named as a special envoy to Mexico under a Democratic administration, has come out for the third party nominee. He alone does his own."

"As far west as Idaho there has been an 'unholy alliance' in one of the two congressional districts in the two Colorado districts. In six districts in

Sues Railway Clerk for $25,000 as Balm for Heart

John C. Follock, chief clerk at the Union Pacific railway offices here, was made defendant in a $25,000 breach of promise suit filed yesterday in Omaha, Neb., by Miss Carrie T. Miller. Miss Miller is 21.

"We were engaged in 1915," she told an Omaha reporter, "but agreed that we would not be married as long as Mr. Follock's mother was alive. She died last March, but my sweetheart has repeatedly refused to marry me."

"I am 31 and have devoted all my time to this man. I have excluded other suitors from my life and now I am entirely without prospects of marriage."

COOLIDGE PLAYS POLITICS, DAVIS SAYS IN DI

Criticizes Cal's State About Disarmament

BY DONALD EWING

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 20 (AP).—President Coolidge was criticized by John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for governor, in a discussion of American affairs during the American people's too much credence in "mere exaggeration in the midst of a campaign, even though it comes from the White House."

The attack on the President, strongest and most personal yet by Mr. Davis, was delivered by 12,000 persons gathered at Vanderbilt football stadium.

The statements were direct on the disarmament conference, Republican claims of its value, newspaper quotations today of President concerning the result, conference, quoting the President saying that, through the conference, the United States entered into an agreement with the big nations to maintain a navy equal to Great Britain.

Resorts to Satire.

"In the language of Ethan Allen," Mr. Davis said, "in the name of Jehovah and the confederate gods, when did this country enter into an agreement with the United States to maintain a navy equal to Great Britain?"

"I do the President the credit," Mr. Davis continued, "and do not believe he really understood the import of what he was saying. The crowd sensed a note of this and snickered. Mr. Davis said that the disarmament conference was only with reduction of battleships and cruisers, and his hearers said that 'future wars, come, will be fought in the air, under water, with airplanes, submarines, and the conference effect on them whatever.'"

Thus, he maintained, statements from the President and from public spokesmen that the conference was "the end of competitive building" are not true.

Conference a Mere Step.

"The conference was merely a first step," he said. "I hope we are sure that mere partisan con-

Ignition Perfection At Last!

An inventor's mind was stirred to action by the injured arms—the broken starters—delay and annoyance that comes from starting gasoline motors. He concentrated upon the Ford, determined to rid the driver's mind of "That Scared Feeling" that comes from the fear of the disastrous kick-back on the second spark. Now after many years of patient, costly experiment, he has accomplished his original aim and much more. The NO KICK TIMER is automatically "fool proof" against second spark kick-back because of an entirely new mechanical principle developed in its CAM FINGER. It gives practically perfect combustion because of the method of obtaining contact and the material used in the contact points. Sold by these dealers:

At last you can have ignition on your Ford motor that is practically perfect. No longer is starting a troublesome, hazardous job—it is made instantaneous and safe. Now there is no reason why you should not get the full power and perfection of economical service that the Ford motor is capable of giving you.

NO KICK TIMER
For Ford Cars Trucks and Tractors

This timer is considered, by experts and users alike, to be one of the outstanding achievements of the automobile world.

Principles and materials never before used in a timer or ignition system, produce ignition that results in practically perfect combustion.

Carbon-Graphite, of superior quality, is well known to be the ideal material for ignition "contacts". Its marvelous conductivity builds up the voltage to a high point, thus giving a powerful ignition spark of unsurpassed intensity. The inventor and manufacturer of the NO KICK TIMER have solved the manufacturing and designing problems necessary to give you Carbon-Graphite contacts. All others have failed. These contacts never pit or wear out. The "make and break" action used in the NO KICK TIMER gives absolutely no friction on the contact.

The remarkable CAM FINGER introduces an entirely new mechanical principle (protected by basic patents). This positively prevents the disastrous, second-spark kick-back. It protects your arm and your starter.

The NO KICK TIMER brings out the full efficiency of the wonderful Ford magneto and coil box. It works equally well on battery or "mag." It is designed to save an enormous sum of money for Ford owners because of the increased mileage per gallon of gas and greater power due to better combustion. Users say it pays for itself in 2,000 miles.

There is No Oiling—No Washing—No adjustment or care—just 100% service.

You are invited to put the NO KICK TIMER to actual test on your Ford motor today. Go to any dealer and buy one on Ten Days' Free Trial. At the end of ten days if you are not entirely satisfied that it does all claimed for it, just return it to the dealer or the manufacturers and your money will be cheerfully returned.

Our Unconditional Guarantee of 10,000 miles of perfectly satisfactory service goes with every timer. If there is no dealer near you mail the coupon to any dealer or the manufacturers.

COOLIDGE PLAYS POLITICS, DAVIS SAYS IN DIXIE

Criticizes Cal's Statement About Disarmament.

BY DONALD EWING.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—President Coolidge was charged by John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, with "playing politics" in his denunciation of American affairs, and warned the American people not to put too much credence in "mere partisan exaggeration in the midst of a campaign, even though it comes from the White House itself."

The attack on the President, the strongest and most personal yet made by Mr. Davis, was delivered before 10,000 persons gathered at Vanderbilt university football stadium.

The statements were direct comment on the disarmament conference, the Republican claims of its value, and on newspaper quotations today from the President concerning the results of the conference, quoting the President as saying that, through the conference, the United States entered into an agreement with the big nations enabling it to maintain a navy equal to that of Great Britain.

I WOULD JOIN LEAGUE ON ANY TERMS WHEN PEOPLE WISH—DAVIS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Democratic national headquarters here have received the following statement by John W. Davis, the party's presidential nominee, replying to a direct question whether he favors entrance of the United States into the league of nations:

"In my speech of acceptance I said, speaking in the sheerest terms of national interest, it was not wise or prudent or safe that fifty-four nations should sit together in conference on world affairs and America be absent. I said while this nation could not join the league of nations helpfully unless and until the common judgment of the American people supported such a step, the day will come, in my judgment, when we should see that both interest and duty dictated that step. I do not believe that the league of nations is perfect. I do not believe that it has assumed its final form. I believe in life and growth and custom and habit. I am not concerned even about the terms on which we shall appear at the council table of the world."

"Of that appearance and out of such conference, in God's good time, will grow a friendly habit among men, the custom of calm and reasonable discussion and a proper yielding, not to force, not to a super state, not to a command, but, in the language of the declaration of independence itself, to a decent respect for the opinion of mankind."

Resorts to Satire.

"In the language of Ethan Allen," Mr. Davis said, "in the name of the great Jehovah and the continental congress, when did this country have to enter into an agreement with any nation to be enabled to maintain any kind of navy it sees fit?"

"I do the President the credit to say," Mr. Davis continued, "that I do not believe he really understood the real import of what he was saying."

The crowd seemed a note of satire in the air and enlivened. Mr. Davis then said that the disarmament conference dealt only with reduction of capital battleships and cruisers, and warned his hearers that "future wars, if they come, will be fought in the air and under water, with airplanes and submarines, and the conference has no effect on them whatever."

Thus, he maintained, statements from the President and from other Republican spokesmen that the conference was "the end of competitive navy building" are not true.

Conference a Mere Step.

"The conference was merely the first step," he said. "I hope and I am sure that mere partisan exaggeration."

DEMOCRATS TO PUSH CAMPAIGN FOR D. J. EGAN

County Treasurer P. J. Carr yesterday completed the "signing up" of every member of the Democratic county committee to "go the limit" in seeking the reelection of Dennis J. Egan as chief bailiff of the Municipal court.

Members of the organization are even more deeply interested in Egan's reelection fight than they would be ordinarily, because heart trouble has kept him out of the campaign. He has been compelled to live quietly at his summer home in Wisconsin, with Mrs. Egan supervising the limited amount of exercise he is permitted to take daily.

"You bet I'm going to pitch in for Egan," said A. J. Cernak, who recently returned from Europe. "I served with him in the legislature and preceded him in the bailiff's office, and I know beyond a doubt that his record entitles him to reelection."

SMALL TALKS TO 6,000 PEOPLE AT COLISEUM RALLY

Gov. Len Small talked to 6,000 people last night in the Coliseum. Of this number, 4,000 were women, who sat down at the banquet table with the governor prior to his address. After the feasting was over the men were admitted and sent to the balconies.

In his address the governor dealt with the duties of the Illinois commerce commission in the regulations of service and rates of public utilities. The governor was given an ovation when he was introduced by Dr. John Dill Robertson, chairman of the meeting. After that the applause came mostly from those near the speaker's platform. Those removed from the rostrum gathered in little groups and had their own talk.

The November issue of the Ontra magazine tells in picture and story of numerous changes in Chicago since 1824, when this city was a settlement of fourteen houses and about seventy-five inhabitants.

The beautiful three-color cover by Paul Strayer portrays Wabash Avenue 100 years ago, including the palisaded settlement houses and the second Fort Dearborn, near the present location of the Ontra Cafeteria at 123 N. Wabash Avenue.

The leading article in this number describes Wabash Avenue from earliest times and the part it has played in the development of Chicago. Contrasted with the historic scenes are artistic photographs of the present-day Chicago, among them a beautiful double page view of the new Stadium in Grant Park.

There is also an illustrated article on the Uptown Chicago Exposition; extracts from an address by Mrs. Anna J. Peterson, Director of the Home Service Department of the Peoples Gas, Light & Coke Company; a glimpse "behind the scenes" in the Ontra Cafeterias, and a number of Miss Dutton's favorite recipes.

Elmer Hears This and That Here and Yon

Silent Night Gives Him a Busy Evening.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

With the aid of a little imagination we will forget this mortal coil of ours and swirl round about the country for a change.

We might linger with some Boy Scouts who were at least enjoying themselves at KDKA, Pittsburgh, at 7:30, but their by-plays were not interesting. So to WBZ, Springfield, Mass., but they were signing off. On to WGY, Schenectady, where a string quartet was playing a Hayden or a Mozart chamber music selection, the kind I hope to hear from the Drake Concert ensemble on Sunday nights on their 9 to 10 o'clock program. Neither the name of the players nor the composition, however, was furnished.

The United States Navy band was found in the midst of a concert at WCAP, Washington. In another moment they were playing our national anthem, bringing that program to a close.

From there on I couldn't find anything of interest until 8:50, when I picked up a lively orchestra. . . . "Ladies and gentlemen, WCAP is playing a program of chamber music. That was Graham MacNamee's voice! Yes, and he was playing in the orchestra in praise of the A. & P. orchestra, which had been playing. His introduction of Felian Gerda, concert pianist, was—well, Sir Gerda must be a wonderful pianist. The announcing came across better than the piano music at this distance.

A La Follette political meeting was located at 8:15, which caused me a lot of trouble. Dudley Field Malone of New York was making an address at some hall. I couldn't locate the station call letters. The dial marking was WCAP, Washington, but another station was giving an address also, but indistinctly. A hurry wire to New York brought the reply that Mr. Malone was to speak, but didn't. If I did. The solution must be that it was broadcast by both WCAP and WCAP.

There was an unaccountable terrible whistle on the 423 WLV (Cincinnati) wave length, spoiling their program. I heard WDAF, Kansas City, at 9:40, in the midst of a barn dance, having a happy time—among themselves.

At 9:45, WJZ, New York—orchestra in selections from "Marta".

WDAF, Philadelphia, 9:53, jazz—good-by!

10:05, WHN, New York—"Roses in the Bud," sung by Eleri Falls (7), tenor.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(Tuesday, Oct. 21.)

(Central standard time throughout.)

W-G-N is to broadcast the Michigan-Wisconsin football game from Ann Arbor next Saturday. Announcer Quin A. Ryan will be situated in a special radio coop on top of the press stand at Ferry field, to give you a colorful description of the entire action.

Remember "The Pottery," who used to enact their family doings every Sunday in THE TRIBUNE? Well, you can hear them all on the air this evening from W-G-N. This CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

The Potter family is now on the stage in J. P. McEvoy's comedy at the Great Northern theater, and tonight at 6 o'clock the comedy will be played, headed by Donald Meek and Eleanor Gordon as "Pa" and "Ma" will stage the famous breakfast scene over the radio with "Pa," "Ma," "Mamie," and the child involved.

Back home in the studio again, after two weeks of public appearances at the Fair, Marshall Field's, and the Illinois Products exposition, the W-G-N staff tonight will proceed on the old familiar tenor of their ways. Sara Regina Rabin, soprano, accompanied by Sonia Nahin at the piano; William Hake, tenor; Eva Eller, pianist; and members of the La Ponsa school of music will fill the classic hour between 8 and 9.

Jack Chapman's Drake hotel orchestra and other entertainers will be heard during the jazz scamper between 10 and 11.

KILL 1 CHINESE, WOUND 2 IN NEW TONG OUTBREAK

Heavy Police Guards in Two Chinatowns.

inserted an advertisement in a Chinese newspaper, Kung Shong Yet Po, stoutly denying he was connected with any organization. His partner, Frank Y. Soane, who was taken into custody, readily admitted he is a Hip Sing and blamed the Kai-slaying on the On Leongs.

Girls Witness Shooting.
Miss Genevieve Roache, 3318 West Adams street, and Miss Elizabeth Taiton, 484 Congress street, had just entered the restaurant and given their orders when the shooting occurred. Soane was at the cash register. Kai walked back to the kitchen to fill their orders. As he did so two Chinamen who had been sitting at a table near the kitchen door for nearly an hour followed him in.

Agnes Bonk, a dishwasher, said a few hasty words passed between the pair and Kai when Hong, the cook, whipped a pistol from under his apron and fired at close range. Kai fell with five bullet wounds. He was dead when the police arrived.

Joseph Scanlon, 17 years old, 2502 West Adams street, said he saw the white-eyed cook and the others throw away their guns as they rushed through the alley and led the police to the spot. Two Colt revolvers were found, from which the serial numbers had been filed.

The numbers also were found to have been erased on two Smith & Wesson guns left behind in the Paulina street laundry and a .38 caliber police revolver was dropped by a gunman who fired into the Kodak avenue laundry. The police hope to trace these guns through manufacturers' records, as they did in the Carl Wanzler case.

Arrest White Wife.
Immediately after the Madison street shooting, the Filmore street police arrested every Chinaman found in the place, as well as those found on the streets within a radius of two miles. Along with Soane the police also took his wife, Mrs. Lena Soane, a Caucasian who married him eleven years ago and who is now owner of the New Peking Inn at 2918 Madison street.

"This shooting was done by On Leong gunmen," she told Capt. Gleason. "My husband is a Hip Sing. The On Leongs are jealous because the largest gambling houses are controlled by the Hip Sings. I believe they meant to get my husband and got Kai, his cousin, by mistake."

"I am a member of the Hip Sing tong," Soane said, "but Kai was not a member of any organization. I believe this fellow Hong came to work at my place as a cook to serve as a spy for the On Leongs."

"I had some trouble with the On Leongs ten months ago when Lee Foy, a 224 street gunman, came to my place and caused a disturbance. I threw him out. Recently I was told by a friendly member of the rival tong that I had been marked for death. I believe the gunman made a mistake when they killed Kai."

Family Feud Blamed.
Both of the men wounded in the Paulina street laundry denied they were victims of a war between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs. They said they were wounded by enemies of the Moy family tong. Frank Moy, who went to St. Mary's hospital and talked with them told a different story to Capt. Pasynski of the West Chicago avenue station.

He placed the whole blame on Chin Jack Lam, who was arrested at Clark and Randolph streets last Tuesday night, but who escaped a charge of carrying concealed weapons when he exhibited a deputy sheriff's star in court next day.

"We kicked Lam out of the On Leong tong three years ago," he said. "He finally went to Cleveland and gathered about him about 300 Chinamen, who had stuck by him, mostly gunmen and low gamblers."

Charges of Extortion.
They extorted about $20,000 from On Leongs by threats and then forced the On Leongs to cancel about $70,000 in mortgages by kidnapping Wong Sing, head of the Chinese merchants' association in Cleveland, and holding him prisoner for many days. He is under indictment in Cleveland now but Gov. Small has refused to grant extradition papers. Lam is also business agent of the Chinese Waiters' union here.

Many Chinese suspects were picked up in various parts of the city—some armed—but no direct evidence connecting any of them with the shootings was uncovered.

ROBBED OF TWO RINGS.
Charles Yin was the victim of the Milwaukee shooting. He was in his laundry, which he had bought only a few weeks ago. Yin feared an attack, police believe, because, hanging on a string in front of a small stove in his shop, were the legs, liver, heart, and portions of the intestines of a chicken. When dried, this fetid is carried as a protection against evil spirits.

Philip Kachel, 460 Belmont avenue, was robbed of two rings valued at $800 and $145 by two men at Belmont avenue and Halsted streets last night.

Armstrong's Linoleum for Every Floor in the House

Look for the

For the Bedroom
A waxed and polished floor of Armstrong's
Jaspé Linoleum.

Women Are Learning that Linoleum Is Pretty

TEN years ago a linoleum floor might never have been considered for this charming bedroom.

For then there were not nearly so many beautiful designs and color effects as are now found in modern linoleum. Nor was linoleum laid then as it is now—by cementing—assuring an unbroken expanse of lustrous smoothness.

But today women are waking up to the fact that linoleum floors may be truly beautiful. When the bedroom shown in the picture was being redecorated, the floor was the most stubborn problem. It was an old board floor. It had been varnished one year, stained the next, painted the next. But it seemed impossible to make it a pretty floor. Wide cracks and ugly scars could not be disguised. Nothing in the room looked right. The floor interfered with the whole color scheme.

Finally an interior decorator suggested a floor of fine linoleum. Armstrong's Linoleum was chosen in the pleasing new Jaspé design. Its coloring harmonized with furniture, curtains, fabric rugs. Because it was carefully cemented in place over a lining of builders' deadening felt, it was a snug, flat floor. There were no cracks; the seams were expertly joined. It was and is a handsome floor in a most attractive room.

Warm, quiet, and easy to clean.

Floors of linoleum are satisfactory floors. They are quiet under foot-steps. After their first washing and thorough waxing, linoleum floors need little care. Daily wiping with a dry mop takes up dust and dirt. Go over the entire floor once a week with a cloth moistened in liquid wax to restore the polish. Do not scour or scrub fine linoleum—it is actually harmful, and unnecessary, on a waxed floor.

Where to see the new patterns.

You can find an interesting display of the new designs and colors of Armstrong's Linoleum at good department and furniture stores. When you look at linoleum, think of it as laid flat on your floor, waxed and polished, and your fabric rugs spread upon it. That is the way to realize the beauty of a linoleum floor.

Write for free sample and booklet.

Let us send you a sample of Armstrong's Linoleum and our 24-page booklet, "New Floors for Old," containing a score of colorplates of distinctive designs appropriate for every room in your house—Jaspé, carpet inlaid, tile inlaid, and printed patterns; and linoleum rugs, both printed and inlaid.

If you wish specific advice about color schemes for floors, wall coverings, and draperies, simply write to our Bureau of Interior Decoration, in charge of Mrs. Hazel Dell Brown, describing the room or rooms you are planning. No charge is made for this service.

Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs

Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs, printed or inlaid, like all Armstrong's Linoleum, are made of cork, linseed oil, and burlap, and have the Circle "A" trademark on the burlap back. Made in four sizes.

"She Is Skinny"

If she only knew that she could put on at least 5 pounds of good, healthy flesh in 30 days, she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face and run-down looks.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the ill-smelling, nasty tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins that make flesh, creates appetite, builds up the power to resist disease and chases away nervousness.

But it's horrible tasting stuff and every day fewer people are taking it, for doctors are prescribing and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which Buck & Rayner, Public Drug Co., Walgreen Co., MacLean Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., Boston Store and druggists all over the country are having a tremendous demand for.

It's a wonderful unbinding medicine for children, especially after sickness, and every tablet costs only 25 cents.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 30 days and if any skinny man or woman can't get on 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

UTHERANS URGE MORAL TRAINING AS MODERN NEED

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
A banquet attended by 2,000 at the Madison Beach hotel last evening celebrated the joint session of the Lutheran Brotherhood and the convention of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The session of the brotherhood began at 3 p. m. and will continue all day today. The convention will begin tomorrow morning and continue over next week Tuesday.

Adding the fourth "R" to the old three formula, "reading, riting, and rithmetic," namely, religion, was declared to be the object of the Lutheran Brotherhood by Dr. H. W. A.
Norton, president of Pennsylvania Synod, Gettysburg, Pa., who was one of the banquet speakers.

"Given out of ten of the children of America receive no religious instruction whatever," Dr. Norton said.
"One of our western states has appropriated $4,000,000 for the cure of lung disease, but not one cent for the religious instruction of its youth."

"The famous Loeb-Leopold case in Chicago was no joke, but it was nationwide in its effect. Such a crime can only come from a lack of the cultivation of the moral and religious life."

Church State Independent.
The Lutheran position in regard to the attitude of the church and state was expressed by George B. Cromer, Newberry, S. C.

"The state and the church are each independent," said Mr. Cromer. "The church has no right to dictate to the state what it shall teach or believe, and on the other hand the church has the right to dictate to the state."
"If the state declares war it is not for the church to interfere. If the church can dictate in matters of state it will not be long before we shall have a state which can no longer protect the church in the exercise of its rights. While the church and state are independent of each other, both are essential for the welfare of the community and ought to work in harmony."

Pisa School in Japan.
Dr. S. B. Walth, general secretary of the Lutheran Brotherhood, announced a united offering of $5,500 had been made for the building of a boys' school in Japan, and the treasurer,
C. W. Howe, stepped forward and presented the check for that amount to Dr. George Drach, secretary of the foreign board for Japan.

John L. Zimmerman, Springfield, O., was toastmaster, and Charles J. Drie-ver, national president of the brotherhood, presided. E. F. Elliott, New York City; H. T. Dornier, Washington,
D. C.; Dr. J. F. Krueger, Fremont, Neb., and Dr. J. H. Knuble, New York, president of the church, were other speakers.

Girl Inhales Gas After Quarrel with Young Man

Miss Irene Hendrix, 25, of 4815 South avenue, committed suicide Sunday evening by inhaling gas. Roland McDaniel, of the same address told police that earlier that evening she accused him of being attentive to another woman and there was a quarrel. He left, but when he returned he found Miss Hendrix's body on the bedroom floor.
McDaniel was released yesterday after a verdict of suicide was returned.

MORGAN AGREES TO A $250,000,000 LOAN TO FRANCE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright, 1924, by The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Oct. 20.—J. Pierpont Morgan met Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel Saturday evening and twice today in connection with the negotiations for a French loan on the American market.

The total upon which both sides are now figuring is $250,000,000, enough to absorb
Mr. Morgan's private credit of $100,000,000 to France and give France nearly $150,000,000 for its own use.

Mr. Morgan informed the premier that he believed the actual terms of the loan should not be announced or the bonds issued until after the American elections, as financial operations during election campaigns are handicapped by the general nervousness.

He agreed on $250,000,000 as the total sum, but differences of opinion exist on the interest and amortization charges and the rate of issue.

Illegal Gentian Sale Charges Are Dismissed

Charges against A. Lange, florist, 78 East Madison street, accused of illegal sale of fringed gentians, were dropped yesterday after a conference with the Wild Flower Preservation society. Mr. Lange, who said the action against him arose out of a misapprehension, called a meeting of the Society's florists' association, of which he is an officer, and advised against the sale of those flowers. Every florist in Chicago agreed not to merchandise gentians.

PREPARE BETTER FIRE DRILLS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

School authorities and officials of the Chicago fire department met in the office of Supt. William McAndrew yesterday to formulate a standard fire drill for school children.

An investigation by the mayor's fire commission reported only about 15 per cent of the school drills as effective.

The prevention of a panic rather than added speed, will form the foundation of the plans, it was announced.

The fire department officials were asked to draw up a signal system to be used for drills. The system will indicate what exits are closed as well as being a general alarm.

The conference was attended by John C. McDonald, acting head of the fire prevention bureau, Capt. John Sullivan and Capt. Anthony McManey, representing the department.

WEAR CARNATION NEXT MONDAY; IT'S NAVY DAY

Plans to focus the attention of middle westerners upon the importance of keeping the navy at its highest standard were put under way yesterday when the Navy day committee, met at the Chicago Athletic association.

Navy day is next Monday. It is also the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt.
It will be celebrated by the wearing of pink carnations to signify an understanding of its importance; and by listening to the five radio addresses on the subject.

Broadcasting will be done from the local stations on Sunday, as Monday is silent night. A flag raising ceremony will be held on board the U. S. S.
Commodore, the naval reserve ship.

STOMACH UPSET? Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way.
When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach trouble.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue,
poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their silky color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Morning Afternoon Evening this will keep your hair in place . . .

How does your hair look an hour after you've brushed it?

All out of place—mussed—every which way? Only a hint of its trimness left?

That used to be the daily experience of most men.

For then there was no quick, effective way to keep the hair always in place, looking at all times just as you want it to look. Old-fashioned pomades matted the hair and made it greasy. Water evaporated quickly and left the hair drier and harder to control than ever.

A great change

But now Stacombs has taken a place among the essentials of the well-dressed man's equipment. And everywhere you go you see smooth, neatly-combed hair—natural, soft, lustrous.

Men have found in Stacombs
what they have always needed —an easy, natural way to make their hair lie as they like it best, and stay that way from morning till night.

Your hair—however dry and straggly, however uncontrollable after being washed—will keep in perfect order all day long if you apply just a touch of Stacombs when you brush it in the morning.

Women use Stacombs, too.
Whether the hair is long or bobbed, Stacombs makes it lie close to the head, in smooth, lustrous lines, according to the present fashion.

This delicate invisible cream can be had in jars and tubes. Non-staining and non-greasy. At all drug and department stores. Use Stacombs tomorrow morning, and look your best all day!

Purely Personal

When a letter comes to you, with "purely personal" on the envelope, you know that it contains something so intimate that it is for your eyes alone. There is published today for you and your family a magazine built on facts so intimate and so confidential that each reader's copy might be marked "Purely Personal."

It is a magazine in which worth while men and women with names important in the world's affairs, tell with intimate frankness, under their own names...not in interviews, not under nom de plumes, not behind the cloak of anonymity, but under their own names...the lessons they learned from life. It is the one magazine of its kind in the world. In the issue on sale today there is, for instance:

The Story of a Man Who Became Good Friends With His Wife

If you meet a girl in the afternoon, become engaged that evening, and marry within the month
there is little time for getting acquainted. Burton Rascoe, noted literary critic, tells how, with nothing in common except the passion of first love, his wife and he pulled together when they might have pulled apart.

A Philosopher's Revelations of the Petting Parties of His Youth

Some people seem to think petting parties are a recent invention of the present younger generation. Ed Howe, the Kansas philosopher, who is 71 years young, notes only two changes in them from the customs of his own youth when young lovers wrapped the reins around the whip and let the horse jog on.

A Reporter's Story of Her Day With the Most Powerful Woman in Europe

Matel Potter Daggett met Queen Marie in Paris
while the gentlemen of the Peace Conference were settling the fate of Europe. In "A Woman Who Gets Her Own Way" she tells of this beautiful queen whose merriment is not military but millionaire, who gets what she wants for her beloved Roumania with the wave of her feathered fan.

Those deal with the emotional side of life. But the other sides, the sides which make for success and health and happiness, they too are told from the hearts of worth while people. For instance:

A Man at 80, With a Son of 9, Tells How to Live to a Ripe Old Age

In six simple words Dr. Harvey W. Wiley gives his formula for vigorous old age in an article telling how at the age of eighty he manages to combine the work of a farmer and of a magazine editor.

A Great Journalist Tells How He Grew Up to a Job Too Big for Him

Mr. Philip Gibbs tells how, when a jobless youth, he dared to play the part of a living encyclopedia for a big newspaper. He got away with it. His message is "Don't be afraid to tackle a job that's too big for you."

A Recipe for Success by a Man Whose Relatives Made Him Succeed

Charles G. Norris refused to be known just as "Kathleen's Husband," and wrote three novels,
"Salt," "Bess," and "Bread." He says almost anyone can become a novelist if you follow the method he outlines.

A magazine with these features alone would be a magazine so distinctive as to demand a place in your life even though your table be crowded with publications. But it is a magazine which in addition has more unusual fiction than any all fiction magazine you read. For example:

Frenchy: The Lightly Told Love Story of an Underdog

Versatile Rex Beach gives you humor in an Alaskan setting in the short story of Marcel, a d'Aragon of the white-brown who became a cave man.

A Devil Among the Women, a Short Story by George Weston

There's a little of Mr. Bingham in every woman's sub. It's the masculine desire to persuade that so often makes trouble—unless the Mrs. Bingham understand.

A Novel of High Hearts and Open Trails, by James Oliver Curwood

The story of a boy and a dog and a courageous man who fought their way to happiness in the north woods in spite of the most powerful crook in Canada.

These four short stories are featured from an issue that contains the latest from the pen of the master of English, Rudyard Kipling, because they are so distinctive. In this magazine Kipling, Norman Hapgood, Irvin Cobb, Ray Long, and others equally noted, are regular features. Kipling this month writes on love, Hapgood on women, Cobb on bores, Long on narrow minds. Then there are two new writers...Dale Collins and Noah Webster Neall...with worth while stories to tell. In fact, that's this magazine from cover to cover...worth while stories by worth while writers for worth while readers. Are you one of the last named?

FIND SOCIALIST WAND TURNS PROFIT INTO LOSS

Australian Taxpayer Pays for Labor's Magic.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright, 1924, By The Chicago Tribune.]
SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 20.—The auditor general for the Socialist state of Queensland in a report just issued shows that the total deficit for the last ten years in the state owned and operated railroads is $53,000,000.

Ten years ago when the Socialists came into power in Queensland under the name of the Labor party, the state railroads showed a surplus of almost $50,000,000.

Opposition critics characterize Queensland's present financial condition as deplorable, and assert that if the present drift continues the state will go into bankruptcy.

$53,000 Rail Loss.

"A peculiarity of Queensland," says the Sydney Herald, "is that it has been able to go on for ten years in financial dissipation, which would long since have bankrupted any but a government very strong in resources and husbanded by private people. During the decade in which labor has ruled, the bill for interest on the public debt has approximately doubled. The taxpayers had to foot it, while at the same time making good a $55,000,000 loss on the railroads and huge losses on governmental business undertakings, plus a provision for the extravagant general administration of the state."

The auditor general's report shows that the state owns eighty-one lines of railroad, comprising a mileage of 8,174. Of these eighty-one lines only six were operated at a profit during the last year. Twenty-seven lines earned enough to pay working expenses, but only a portion of the interest due on them—the aggregate deficit under the interest heading being $200,000. The forty-eight other lines not only did not pay the interest, but earned incomes insufficient to meet working expenses. Their loss to the state was about $4,500,000.

Critics Charge Bad Business.

Opposition critics in Queensland point to the report as appalling evidence of bad business in railroad construction. And yet another 500 miles of road is now under construction, and further extensions are contemplated.

The minority leaders in the Queensland government charge that the state copper mines there are being conducted at a loss of almost $1,000,000 a year to the state. Four years ago when copper was $15 a ton the state smelters netted a small profit. Since then a loss of more than $1,000,000 has been written off the smelters' books. The Queensland Labor party defends this state mining policy, although one member of the party asserted that the industry would have to be abandoned if copper fell below $10 a ton. With copper below that figure at present, the opposition points out that Queensland is losing from $3 to $4 on each ton of copper it continues to produce, while the government continues its policy of transferring the deficit to the shoulders of the taxpayers.

Runs Other Interests.

The Queensland socialist government does not confine its operations to railroads and copper. It runs one hotel, a number of railroad restaurants, one produce agency, seventy-two butcher shops, a number of cattle and sheep ranches and fishing boats, and one cannery.

The total indebtedness of these enterprises to the state is almost $10,000,000. The population of the entire state is about 800,000. The state restaurants showed a credit of $25,000 on the treasury account, but the state butcher shops owed the state $250,000, the state produce agency owed $125,000, the state fish supply owed $240,000, the state hotel owed $70,000, the state cannery owed $700,000, and the state sheep and cattle ranches owed $8,100,000.

A glance at the net results of the state's trading operations for a year reveals results that would spell bankruptcy in any private enterprise. The produce agency, restaurants, and hotel turned in a profit of $60,000 net. But the state butcher shops operated at a loss of $50,000, the state ranches lost $784,000, the state fish supply lost $50,000, and the state cannery lost $75,000, making a total loss of roughly $1,000,000. The total accumulated losses of the above state enterprises now amount to almost $3,000,000.

Unemployment Goes Up.

Anti-Socialist politicians in Queensland declare that prior to the Socialist rule unemployment was practically negligible in the state, whereas for the last several years it has been the highest in all Australia. Comparing Queensland with all the other states in Australia, the same authorities assert that the cost of living was the lowest in Queensland prior to the socialist rule, and wages, taking the cost of living into consideration, were higher than at present. Since 1914, under the socialist administration, the cost of living has had its greatest increase in Queensland.

The nationalist and liberal party leaders draw striking comparisons between the eight year period from 1917 to 1915 under an anti-socialist government, and the eight year period from 1915 to 1923, under the socialist government. Under the first period each separate year recorded a state surplus, plus an amount paid to the public trustee for the reduction of the state's debt. In the following eight years of the socialist regime each year showed a deficit totaling about $5,000,000. Under the socialist income taxes increased 354 per cent, stamp duties increased 90 per cent, and amusement taxes and license increased 147 and 25 per cent, respectively.

Always sold in the yellow box

Every Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush is made clean, in a sanitary American factory, by American workers. It is packed in the famous sanitary yellow box. Then brush and box together are sterilized again. Every genuine Pro-phy-lac-tic is sold in the famous sanitary yellow box.

Eight good reasons

why the Pro-phy-lac-tic is the world's standard tooth brush

- 1 The large end tuft reaches and cleans the backs of the back teeth as well as the inside surfaces of all teeth—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.
- 2 Saw-tooth bristle tufts, scientifically spaced and formed, arranged in a curve to fit the "profile" of the teeth—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.
- 3 The curved handle, with the tapered and beveled head, which enables the Pro-phy-lac-tic to get behind the teeth and clean all teeth—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.
- 4 Dependable markings on each brush, so you may rely on getting hard, medium or soft bristles—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.
- 5 The use of a symbol to mark each brush so that every individual may know his own Pro-phy-lac-tic—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.

6 The hole in the handle and the hook to hang the brush upon—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.

7 The sanitary yellow box which brings your tooth brush to you clean, untouched by any hands since it left the sanitary Pro-phy-lac-tic factory—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush.

8 Made in America by Americans—originated by the Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush. Now sold in every civilized community on earth.

The three sizes are priced in the United States: Pro-phy-lac-tic Adult, 50c; Pro-phy-lac-tic Small 40c; Pro-phy-lac-tic Baby, 25c. Hard, medium or soft bristles.

KIANGSU TROOPS LOOT EVERY TOWN NEAR SHANGHAI

Soldiers Terrorize Rich- est District of China.

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.
SHANGHAI, Oct. 20, 11 p. m.—With in the last three days practically every town and village, as well as farmhouse, in the district within a range of forty miles of Shanghai has been looted or burned, or both, by unrestrained soldiers in this section. The losses suffered in this section, which is the most densely populated and richest in China, are almost beyond estimation.

The town of Nanshang, having a population of about 20,000, was completely looted and burned Saturday by Kiangsu troops, and the only people left in the place are 8,000 women and children gathered in the compound of the southern Methodist mission.

Large Towns Looted.

The town of Sungkang, to the south of Shanghai, a place of approximately 100,000, was completely looted, and the town of Kashi, about 80,000 population, was looted. The village of Lushu, of about 5,000 population, was burned and looted. The town of Lushu, of about 5,000 population, was burned
and looted. The town of Lushu, of about 5,000 population, was burned and looted.

The town of Huchow, near Lake
Tao, was looted more than a week ago, and refugees are being looted after by American and British missionaries.

Lookers Are Kiangsu Troops.

Since most of the looting and burning has been done by advancing Ki-angsu soldiers, it is thought here that the officers winked at the affair as a simple method for paying the troops for their victory in overcoming the Chekiang forces.

Reports Here from Canton Today

state that the fire in that city last week, much more serious than was at first thought, and the damage now runs to $50,000,000.

Report Peking Victory.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PEKING, Oct. 20.—Supplementary official, together with private, reports confirm the announcement that Chinese peace has been recognized by Gen.
Wu Pei-fu. It is stated that the Peking commander is prepared to launch an offensive the instant he can turn from the defensive. The impression prevails in foreign circles here, however, that gains near the village of Heimenchih were mistaken for the capture of the pass. The southern approaches to this strategic point continued to be the scene of stubborn battle today.

Gen. Feng Yu-shiang, the Christian commander at the head of the third army, reports further advances, indicating large withdrawals of Manchuran forces.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA and heals the inflamed membrane which kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Cremo-

PEASANTS KILL RUSS TAX MEN; HALT GRAIN GRAB

Kharkov Workers Aid as Uprising Gains.

BY DONALD DAY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.
RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 20.—The Russian peasants' uprising continues to gain strength. Numerous small clashes are reported. Peasants have killed many communist officials.

Grain confiscation has practically ceased throughout the districts of Minsk, Vitebsk, Volynia, and Smolensk. The communist officials in these districts have fled to the larger cities to escape death.

Disorder is spreading to Kharkov,

one of the largest cities in the Ukraine,
where the workers are holding protest meetings against the soviet government's requisitioning grain for export purposes.

"Only Source of Revenue."

The Odessa Investment on Oct. 12, discussing the "unrest in White Russia," reports:

"The workers have not the right to protest against grain exports, because this is the only source of revenue available to the soviet government for the maintenance of the red army and the third internationale. The fact that famine exists and the population is threatened with death and hunger cannot change the soviet government's plans. The communist policies cannot be swayed by sentimental reasons."

Admits 18,000 Were Killed.

"Our red army last spring filled the mouths of 18,000 peasants and workers in the Kharkov district with earth because they killed the local communists and robbed the grain warehouses. Let this lesson penetrate, for the army is ready again with even stronger measures should these Russian disorders continue."

This is the first mention made in the soviet press of the total number killed in the Kharkov riots last spring.

Our Correspondent Asks How to Insure Love After Matrimony

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A young man writes to ask a question which I know is on many lips today. He doesn't beat around the bush.

He wants to know if married people these days care as much about each other as they used to. His observation of friends who have married leads him to think that after the first few months most of them get ill tempered and quarrel over trifles and have anything but a happy time of it.

He ends by saying, "My mother and father were married for some forty years, and they were surely an example of lifelong devotion. Their life has always been my ideal of married life, but lately I'm wondering if I'm not expecting the impossible. I am engaged to a girl and we're in love. I hate a guy who is always seeing the hole in the doughnut, but sometimes I look at her and wonder if we'll some time get tired and feel towards each other as so many of our friends do. I live in a family hotel and so do most of our young married friends, and I have a chance of getting plenty of closeups on their real feelings toward each other."

"One thing, though, I'd like to know is, is there anything my girl and I can do to insure for ourselves love after matrimony?"

Well, I will say that there is no insurance on earth against that particular casualty, love's cessation, that can be had for the mere asking. There are plenty of safeguards that can be practiced every day of married life. And one is admitting at the start that to continue love into marriage is a science in itself. It requires as little to kill the sweet emotions, the precious illusions which form the happiness of married life.

Human nature is much the same today as it always was, but conditions are in many cases different. The old fashioned marriage was primarily a marriage of service, mutual service. The young man of the letter admits that most of the friends from whom he is drawing his deductions live in the same hotel with him.

Young married couples who live in hotels are usually examples of cases where the man does all the work and the woman all the living. There's a decided debtor and creditor in the immediate family circle, and debtors and creditors have never been known to be pleasant companions.

The modern woman has changed from

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Told by an Expert.

The other day my girl friend and I went into the jeweler's to have a wrist watch of mine fixed, which I valued highly.

After examining it the jeweler said, "It really would not pay you to have it fixed, for it would cost you much more than the whole thing is worth; in fact, you can replace it for about $6.75."

I guess he noticed the astonished look on my face, and then said, "Well, of course, if it is a keep sake or something dear to you I can fix it."

I felt too embarrassed to tell him that it was a gift from my best beau.

parents, that you are still too young to go out with boys. You will have plenty of time for that when you are a few years older, and then you will have their consent to do so.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
PEARL: YES, YOU CAN CORRECT the enlarged pores, but it is a condition which takes a little time and patience to overcome. Pores are enlarged because they become clogged, so first use a face brush and a pure soap to eliminate this. Scrub with hot water and then rinse off with warm water, followed by cold. If you have ice it is preferable. Witch hazel is good, particularly if warmed.

JENNIE: DON'T YOU BELIEVE them, Jennie. There is no truth in it. Swimming is one of the best exercises I know of. Too much cannot be said in favor of it, and particularly at this time when it can be indulged in out in the open. It develops the bust, stimulates the heart and blood vessels, and gives a correct position to the body. Stick right to it.

DOLLY: YOU CAN FILL OUT those hollows in your neck by deep breathing exercises also swimming is wonderful for this. Massage will help, but results are more quickly obtained if you combine with it the exercises mentioned. Send along a stamped, addressed envelope for instructions on deep breathing.

the woman whose one thought and ideal was to serve and to make her husband and family supremely comfortable and happy. She has developed more individuality, more freedom. But as long as the man is working primarily for the well being of his family, the woman will have to do her own share if she is to reap proportionately of the rewards.

Talking things over frankly and openly before marriage is a good way of clearing doubts. It will have to be done afterwards, if things are to go right. It is never too early to start.

I know a young wife who discovered in her husband shortly after marriage a tendency to pronounced melancholy. As it happened, that trait was one she particularly disliked and feared, as her father had been subject to it for years.

Finally she told her husband frankly as he couldn't stand it. He would have to change. It would be the wrecking of their home, she said, for she simply could not put up with what her mother had endured for years.

Incidentally, the husband did an extremely good job of controlling his disposition and curbing his temper.

Politics Puts Tax on Many Friendships in Ranks of Society

BY PANDORA.

As the all important fourth of November draws nearer, one notes more and more the presence of the finger of politics in many a social and ecclesiastical discussion. Taxed, fanning the flames that will culminate on election day.

Speaking of rising temperatures reminds us that Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank is planning to call her new novel "The Best of the Day." It's a meaningful title, isn't it? One that brings to mind heated for nistas and work that must be done even when the sun climbs high in the heavens.

But the writing of fiction has, for the moment, been laid to one side by Mrs. Fairbank in the interests of party politics. This Democratic campaigner, as she seems to be, finds that the business of local and statewide campaigning, presiding at meetings of the Progressive Democratic club, and stirring feminine voters in behalf of Independent Jones for Governor movement, doesn't leave much time for other interests. We agree! Four or five speeches sounds like a pretty daily stunt, even for Mrs. Fairbank. We aren't surprised to learn that her latest brain child is vacationing until at least the famous morning after.

On the other side of the political fence, Mrs. Arthur Meeker's days are spent with Republican activity. We had a fleeting glimpse of her yesterday at the Arts club, where she had been lunching with her two children, Mary and Arthur. She was hurrying out door to the women's Republican headquarters, from which I have it from a certain young member of her family who speaks with authority, it is next to impossible to lure her away during business hours.

Day's News in Society

Two of the smartest debut parties of the season are to be held at the Opera club, 18 West Walton place.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Philip Swift will give a dinner-dance and reception at the club on Nov. 13 for Mrs. Swift's sister, Miss Emily Hoyt, daughter of Mr. Phelps B. Hoyt. There will be between 100 and 200 of the debutante's young friends in the party. A grand reception and dance will follow. Mrs. Swift will give a ball later in the winter, Dec. 27, at the Blackstone, for Miss Hoyt and Miss Marjorie Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dunham will give a dinner and dance at the club to present Mr. Dunham's daughter, Miss Josephine Dunham. The club opens formally for the winter and also celebrates its tenth anniversary on Oct. 31.

Mrs. Albert S. Gardner of 456 Surf street gave a luncheon at the Woman's Athletic club yesterday for her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Gardner. Among the twenty-six debutantes present were Miss Marjorie Allen, Miss Emily Hoyt, Miss Sarah Oles, Miss Blufford Richardson, Miss Leslie Thorne, Miss Eltona Requa, Miss Roberta Thorne, Miss Louise Tyler, Miss Martha Morse, Miss Hester White, Miss Elsie Blatchford, and Miss Katherine and Miss Nancy Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holloway Habbat of Lake Forest are being congratulated upon the birth, on Oct. 14, of a daughter at St. Luke's hospital. Miss Harriet and Miss Elizabeth Stuart of 999 Lake Shore drive have returned from a sojourn of several weeks in New York and at White Sulphur Springs. Their brothers, Charles and Harold Stuart, are expected to arrive in New York on Saturday from a six weeks' trip abroad.

Robt. Brandon Judah of Lake Forest was in New York to greet Mrs. Judah when she landed on Saturday from a three months' trip abroad. Mrs. Judah was accompanied by Mrs. Volney Foster, also of Lake Forest.

Mrs. Robert B. Gregory of 1433 Park avenue has returned from the east, where she spent the summer at Massena, Mass. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sweetser, who visited Mrs. Gregory for some time this summer, have returned to Switzerland.

Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Andrews are in their residence at 861 Surf street after a stay of five weeks at the Churchill, following their return from a trip of several months abroad.

College Club Luncheon.

The Chicago College club will give a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today for Lay Fitch Perkins, author and illustrator of children's books. At 2 o'clock Mrs. Perkins will speak informally on her writings and will read some selections. Mrs. Edward F. Bryant and Mrs. Harry E. Cave are to act as hostesses.

ANSWER TO WHAT'S WRONG HERE

Do not occupy the entire space in the lavatory of a train with your suitcase, bundles, etc. The basins and mirrors are meant to accommodate every woman in the coach who is not occupying a drawing room or compartment, and no one person should take more time or space than absolutely necessary.

MAROONS MUST LICK OHIO TO BE IN RUNNING

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

While Illinois, which now rules as a strong favorite for football honors in the Western conference, is playing De Pauw at Champaign in what should be a comparatively easy struggle for Zuppke's men, other members of the Big Ten will tangle in contests which will go a long way toward determining the teams which may have a chance to dispute Illinois' claim to the 1924 title.

Chicago and Ohio State, both untested teams, will meet in the most important contest, although the ones between Iowa and Minnesota at Iowa City and Wisconsin and Michigan at Ann Arbor will attract their share of attention. The Maroons have won one conference clash, while Ohio State defeated Purdue and was held to a tie by Iowa.

Following the continued improvement in the Midway eleven since its defeat by Missouri early in the season, Stagg is developing a team which may cause its future opponents a lot of trouble. The attack is working much smoother, while the defense is improving with every game. Coach Stagg has apparently hit upon a combination which can carry out his ideas, and he undoubtedly will use the same players on Saturday as started in the Indiana game.

Coach Stagg and his players realize they have a chance to win the Big Ten title if they defeat the Buckeyes. Purdue will be met on Nov. 1, and then the Midway eleven will open serious preparation for the Illinois game, on Stagg field, Nov. 8. This struggle will be followed by games with Northwestern and Wisconsin. If Chicago wins handsily over Ohio State, then the Maroons must be figured in the running for the title.

Ohio State will employ an overhead attack in all probability, while Chicago will use the same scheme which brought victories in the Brown and Indiana games. If Stagg is able to develop a fairly reliable punter who can offset the yardage gained by the Buckeye booters, then the Maroons would have better than an even chance to win. As it now stands, there is little to choose between the two teams.

A great battle should take place at Iowa City when Hawkeyes and Gophers meet in their annual struggle. Both have been held to the scores in their only conference games. Michigan, which was eliminated from the 1924 running by Illinois, will take on Wisconsin on Perry field with a rekindled determination. The Wolverines have taken the Illinois defeat silently, an indication that something drastic will happen in Ann Arbor this week. If the players show the right spirit—and there is every reason to believe they will, if they care to be rated with former Maize and Blue warriors—the Michigan team on the week-end will be stronger than the one which faced Illinois.

Badgers Are Determined. Wisconsin, however, is a determined outfit. The Badgers entered the Minnesota game last Saturday on the short end of the betting odds and emerged with a tie score. Coach Jack Ryan is not the type of mentor who will not improve the situation at Madison. Like the Wolverines, the Cardinal should show still further improvement on the week-end.

Northwestern will meet the Michigan Aggies at Evanston, while Purdue and Indiana have no game scheduled. While the conference eleven are meeting each other Notre Dame will clash with Princeton on the latter's gridiron. Notre Dame displayed a wonderful running attack against the Army last Saturday and indications are it will be just as powerful against the Tigers. Just what effect the absence of Capt. Walsh will have on the team is not known, but Rockne will devote most of the week to developing a pivot man who must pass the ball accurately to make this running attack successful.

FOOTBALL CAMPS

HARVARD. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Jack Stafford and Art Howe, quarterback and fullback, were the only players who started Saturday's game against Holy Cross, who began the week in Harvard's first team lineup. The others all rested, some of the players nursing bruises, but none being at all badly hurt. With the exception of Heinie Bunker, who has just come from the hospital, and Al Risner, halfback, who hurt his leg last week, there is not a first string Harvard player who will not be ready and in good trim for the Crimson game with Dartmouth in the stadium Saturday.

NOTRE DAME. Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Battered and bruised, the Notre Dame football team resumed its training program on Saturday here tonight. Capt. Adam Walsh was the only regular missing at roll call and it is not likely that he will be on the field for the next few weeks. X-ray examinations have revealed injuries to both hands serious enough to prevent his playing for some time. Rockne relieved the regular from much heavy work, but called his reserve forward in a scrimmage against a fresh eleven. With the Princeton trip only two days away, light work will be eliminated from the training card starting tomorrow.

IOWA. Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—While the Hawks warmed up tonight from the effects of the Leveaux game, Coach Burt Ingwersen set about preparing the defense for the Minnesota game which will be played on Saturday at the homecoming game. Emphasis was placed on the fundamentals of line play, as an effort to properly adjust to the Gopher players' reserve are getting special attention this week. Galloway is being prepared as relief for Kravitz. Line for Roney, Daniels for Olson, and McIntyre for Griffin. Ruffenberger, Lindell, Man, Lindsay, and Smith are others that may be called upon.

PURDUE. Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Brought up in spirit by Purdue's victory over Northwestern, and anticipating great things at Chicago on Nov. 1, the following drill on Saturday was a hasty pep session for Coach J. J. Stagg. The entire student body, 3,000 students, gathered in the gymnasium for the pep session. Practice sessions in the Purdue football camp will be held this week as the Boilermakers have set aside Saturday with the game with the Maroons coming a week later.

YALE. New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Only one Yale lineup change is contemplated before the Brown game Saturday. The return to right guard of Dick Eckert, signal rehearsal, dummy breaking through, and a long lecture on the individual faults of the team furnished today's program for the twenty players who drove the Dartmouth invaders back for a tie score.

WISCONSIN. Madison, Wis., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Altogether his regular season through the Minnesota game without injury, Coach Jack Ryan today took steps to have reserve material in shape for the invasion of Ann Arbor Saturday when he ordered a long scrimmage of the second team against the all-Americans. The black sweatersed players, using Michigan plays, were unable to gain appreciably. The first string variety took a lighter workout on an adjacent field. Larson, who proved a capable quarter back against the Gophers is expected to hold his position for the Wolverine game, although he may be shifted to half back on defense.

Missouri and Kansas Aggies, two leading contenders for the title, will meet at Columbia, while Kansas and Nebraska will renew their old feud at Lawrence. In the east, Yale and Dartmouth, generally rated about the strongest, will meet Brown and Harvard, respectively. On the Pacific coast, California will meet Washington State at Berkeley, Stanford will clash with Idaho at Portland, and Nevada will play Southern California at Los Angeles.

NOTRE DAME, ARMY MAY PLAY IN CHICAGO

Unless there is some hitch in arrangements, the colorful football struggle between eleven of the United States Military academy at West Point and the University of Notre Dame will be staged next fall in the Grant park stadium.

It was only because enough seats had not been installed that the game was played in the east instead of on the lake front this season. The Army officials had agreed to come west provided 65,000 seats would be erected. The south park board, thought for a time this could be done, but when the matter was delved into, it was found that it would take $110,000 to build the extra seating capacity. This, however, will be done before next fall.

Dawes Backs Plan. In fact, E. J. Kelly, president of the south park board, was about to sign a letter guaranteeing a seating capacity of 65,000 when he learned of the added expenses, which was too heavy for the board to shoulder. Next season, President Kelly expects to have the south end of the bowl enclosed, and if this is the case, the seating capacity will be more than 65,000.

At the time the great struggle came so near being brought west, Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, candidate for Vice President on the Republican ticket, was one of the hardest workers to have the game played in Chicago. When President Kelly informed Gen. Dawes it was an impossibility this year, the candidate for Vice President told him to try and land the gridiron plum for Chicago in 1925 and he would lend his aid.

McEwan Wants Game. Capt. John McEwan, popular coach of the Army eleven, and Knute Rockne, who guides Notre Dame's gridiron affairs, are both extremely anxious to play the contest in the middle west. One reason for this is because the Navy will come into the west to meet Michigan next fall.

Following last Saturday's game at the Polo grounds in New York City at least half of the gathering 60,000 fans remained in their seats to watch the West Point cadets, clad in gray uniform, march out of the stands, form in line, parade around the field and into the waiting trains which carried them back to the plains. It was an inspiring sight, one which most certainly would be appreciated by the football world in the middle west.

In the Wake of the News

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Oct. 20.—Friend Frank: Moved down here after the Illinois-Michigan game. Think I'll accept your suggestion that, as I had no vacation this summer, I take a week off and rest up after those football forecasts of Saturday.

You needn't bother to send me any money. I have a blank check, and, besides, Fortune may smile. There's one thing, however, I wish you would ask Joe Davis. The only other golfer in our party shoots a conservative 85 on his off days. You know my specialty. What I'd like to know is some new method of handicapping to equalize our games. None of the systems with which I am familiar gives me a chance.

If you happen around by our house, you'd take a look and see if it is still there. The misadventure we left the hot water heater burning. Yours for Coolidge and Dawes, HARVEY T. WOODBURY.

Purdue Alumnus Compiles All Big 10 Grid Records

T. A. Kucharski, a Purdue alumnus, has compiled a book containing results of all football games played by Western conference universities. According to the book, Michigan was the first to take up the game in the now Big Ten. Back in 1878 the Wolverines won from Racine college, 7 to 1. The book can be purchased at Spaulding's or from the editor, 1413 Greenleaf avenue, Chicago.

Purdue's Ross-Ade Bowl Ready for Homecoming

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—Completion of the Ross-Ade bowl, Purdue university's new stadium, in time for the homecoming game with Indiana university on Nov. 22 is now assured, the contractors said today. The huge tiers of concrete seats were finished today and work was begun on putting the playing field into shape.

Yellow Jackets Come West to Battle Bears

The Chicago Bears tackle the Philadelphia Yellow Jackets at Cuh' park Sunday afternoon in the first interconference battle of the season in the national football league here. The Yellow Jackets are loaded with former eastern headliners.

COACH GIVES PURPLE TEAM VERBAL LASHING

Coach Glenn Thielthwaite's class in gridiron instruction at Northwestern university was allowed to take things comparatively easy in the first practice session since being surprised by Purdue last Saturday. The Purple mentor was satisfied with only giving his men an easy limbering up exercise on the field and a long lecture in the clubhouse.

Despite the unexpected blow delivered by the Boilermakers, the Purple warriors centered through the brief drill with increased pep and vim, resolved to scalp the Michigan Aggies Saturday at Evanston. Yesterday's limbering up was accomplished by a passing and kicking practice. The kicking was dropped in short order, but later the gridiron spent considerable time in chasing down and getting under aerial heaves hurled by Capt. Bob Wiesnack.

Thielthwaite, who unloaded a number of truths of his mind relative to the performance of the Purple, was not in the best frame of mind while lecturing his men behind closed doors. Boners such as were heaped Saturday will not occur again if the Purple chief's words took effect.

Marshall Battles Waller to Scoreless Grid Tie

It was out of the question for either team to cross the goal line yesterday at De Paul field when Waller High met the Marshall team in a city league grid battle. The defense work of Bergman, half, and Busan, the Waller quarter, made it impossible for the heavy Marshall backs to do any damage. The tussle ended in a scoreless tie. Lineup:

WALLER (O)	MARSHALL (O)
R. E. Darfem	Carlisle
E. T. Kirchweim	Lorway
B. G. Smith	Pepper
L. G. Prusati	Friedman
L. E. Borango	A. Friedman
L. T. Stuhlman	Siemon

Motorcade Today

Automobiles have rolled a total of $11,344,468.56 into the Illinois state treasury through license fees collected to Sept. 20, according to a report on highway financing issued in Springfield yesterday. This fund will be used to retire the year's quota of the $80,000,000 state road bond issue and to care for the maintenance and other highway expenses.

While the campaign for the new state highway program to be financed through the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue or current license receipts is still in progress, the highway department is pushing construction work to the limit in order to close the important gaps of the system.

Route 7, the first cross-state artery south of the Lincoln highway, is reported once between Princeton and the Chicago-Peoria pavement, although the gravel detour on this route is still in force via Spring Valley and Hollowayville, a distance of eleven miles. The detour route is gravel and will be kept in the best possible shape this winter. The recommended route from Springfield to Quincy is by way of Jacksonville and Mendota. This road is all paved with the exception of a few miles through the Illinois river bottoms, where the black dirt is bad in wet weather.

Following the completion of the construction funds on Dixie highway route A, carried on by the Chicago Tribune, the state commission reports from Louisville indicate that the remainder of the money needed to complete this Florida route in Kentucky will be raised there. The Louisville Kentucky club is handling the Louisville end of the affair.

MAROONS DRILL TO STOP PASSES OF OHIO STATE

It's obvious from the drill which was staged by the Maroons at Stagg field last night that they anticipate considerable aerial work by Ohio State, when the two teams clash at Columbus on Saturday. Coach Stagg drilled his men intensively against a passing attack and prepped them somewhat upon their own aerial offensive.

New plays which will be launched against the Buckeyes were given to the Maroons yesterday, and considerable time was spent in running signals, preparatory to presenting a uniform, coordinated offensive against Coach Wiley's bunch.

All Get Into Fray. It is likely that Coach Stagg will give every man on the squad pretty intensive drill this week, equipping all the lads for use against Ohio State and Purdue. It is believed that Chicago is about the best equipped team in the conference to stop "Red" Grange and the other Illini, so it is probable that Stagg will use his secondary men whenever it's possible in the next two games to reduce the possibility of injury to those men who will be relied on against the Illinois turnout.

The Maroons suffered little in the Indiana tilt, none of the thirty-five men who were used in the clash being seriously injured. Graham Kernwein was not needed against the Hoosiers, and his injury was given a chance to heal without a setback. Roney, Francis, and Marks—all of whom have been slightly disabled for a week or so—were in shape for battle on Saturday and suffered no ill effects from the game.

Perfect Style of Punters. Coach Stagg still is spending a lot of time on the development of his punters. The performances of Falcio Caruso and Bill Clarke were pleasing to the veteran mentor, though Stanley Rouse hardly did as well on Saturday as he did the previous week.

OWNER SPURNS $300,000 OFFER FOR EPINARD

New York, Oct. 20.—(By Associated Press.)—After disclosing refusal of a $300,000 offer for Epinard, a prize which sets a new record in thoroughbred values, Pierre Wertheimer announced today that his famous French horse had run his last race and would be retired to the stud M. Wertheimer.

Ep[...], did not reveal the name of the bidder for Epinard, but it was said to be a prominent American turfman who believes the French crack, in spite of four straight defeats in this country, is one of the greatest thoroughbreds of all time.

Injured at Laurel.

Epinard came out of his last race, at Laurel, Md., last Saturday, with a quarter crack in one of his front feet. The injury, which occurred during the race, resulted in the horse's finishing fifth in a field of seven and prompted the decision of M. Wertheimer to retire his star from further competition.

The injury, he said today, was more serious than was at first believed and would preclude any further racing by Epinard, here or abroad.

Plan for Return Trip.

Ep[...], will be shipped back to France aboard the Berengaria in November, according to M. Wertheimer, who himself plans to depart next Wednesday on the same ship.

In acknowledgment of a bronze representation of Epinard given by M. Wertheimer, the Jockey club today wrote the owner of the French horse paying tribute to his courage and sportsmanship for his successful support of the thoroughbred horse both in breeding and racing will be of infinite and lasting importance for years to come to the turf.

BASSLER NAMED WESTWARD HO GOLF PRESIDENT

The Westward Ho Golf club held its annual meeting and election Saturday night, the regular ticket "going over" without opposition. W. J. Boyd retired after two terms as president and was succeeded by Clarence J. Bassler, who was advanced from the first vice presidency to the executive chair.

Other officers elected were Thomas J. Getke, first vice president; John R. Maguire, second vice president; and R. W. Larkin, F. J. Holdsworth, M. Vanderkloot, F. Butenschoen, and L. Lange.

Members of the Oak Park Country club have received a pleasant surprise in the form of the original article which bought the property in 1914 for $100,000 to turn it into a golf course. The land, which includes approximately 200 acres of area land, valued somewhere between $400,000 and $500,000, and was bought by a syndicate, all of whom were members of the club. It is planned to make the transfer of the property to the club in the near future.

Maupome Wins 2 Games as National Cue Play Opens

Pierre Maupome, Chicago's representative in the Interstate Three Cushion Billiard league, opened the season here yesterday by winning the first game of the season, a 15-minute match against the new player, Greenwood, in both afternoon and evening matches at Mussey's. "Maup" won in the afternoon, 50 to 37, in 71 innings, and at night was the victor, 50 to 29, in 71 frames. Maupome had high runs of 4 and 6, while Greenwood registered 4 and 2.

Schaller won Dentinger's, 78 West Madison street, house cushion game from Hendricks (40), 40 to 28, last night in 94 innings.

Gardner won in the model play last night at Taylor's when he beat Davidson (30), 30 to 24. Each player had a high run of 3. The second game went to Campbell, who beat Johnson (30), 30 to 10. Campbell had a high run of 4.

In class A of Button's house ball the billiard tournament last night Barrett defeated Buel (20), 210 to 20, in 15 innings. The winner had a high run of 48. Kiner won the class B game from Fox (150), 150 to 87, in 65 innings. Kiner had high runs of 15. Tonight Porter (115) will play Whittier (115).

There were two games on the three cushion house tourney last at Mussey's, 10 West Jackson, last night. Bell beat Wild (30), 30 to 20, in 41. Bell and Jacobs beat Hart (30), 34 to 20.

Dancing With Faint Praise
Of the Democratic standard
Mr. McAdoo said:
"I am convinced that the chance to drive corruption and
